General Quotations

OF BONDS AND STOCKS

In the earlier part of this publication complete records of the dealings on the leading stock exchanges of the country, for the latest month and for the calendar year to date, are furnished. In this department of General Quotations we combine in one comprehensive whole, securities of all classes and descriptions, not only those dealt in on the exchanges but also leading unlisted and inactive securities. The following is an index to the different classes of securities quoted:

Quotations from all Stock Exchanges are as near as possible for the closing day of the month preceding the date of issue. As the New York Stock Exchange began with Jan. 2 1909 to quote all bond prices "and interest," we have adopted the same method and no longer employ a designating mark to indicate the fact except where there is a deviation from this rule. The reader will understand, therefore, that unless the letter "f" is prefixed to the price, he must pay accrued interest in addition to the price. This, however, does not apply to income bonds or bonds in default, in which cases the price includes the interest, should there be any.

The letter "f" prefixed to bond prices denotes that the quotation is a flat price—that is, that the accrued interest forms part of the price, and therefore the purchaser does not have to provide for it separately in making payment. As already stated in the case of income bonds and bonds in default, the price is always "flat," and no designating mark is employed to indicate the fact.

Quotations for equipment bonds are based on average maturities.

Quotations for guaranteed stocks are "and dividend"; that is, the accrued dividend must be paid in addition to the price. Stock prices marked thus (d) are per share. All others are per cent except bank stock prices, which are quoted per share unless otherwise stated.

It should be borne in mind in the use of these tables that the quotations for many inactive and unlisted securities are merely nominal, but in all cases the figures are obtained from sources which are considered reliable.

The following abbreviations are often used, viz.: "M" for mortgage, "g" for gold, "gu" for guaranteed, "end" for endorsed, "cons" for consolidated conv" for convertible, "s f" for sinking fund, "l g" for land grant, "op" for optional.

The black-faced type in the letters showing the interest period indicates the month when the bonds mature.

NOTICE.—All bond prices are "and interest" except where marked "f" and income and defaulted bonds.

Industrial and Miscellaneous Securities

Under the heading "Industrial and Miscellaneous Securities" we include all issues which do not appear under the previous two headings, namely "Railroads (Steam)" and "Public Utilities." In the case of stocks, however, we put "Textile Manufacturing," "Insurance," "Mining," "Real Estate and Land," "Title Guarantee and Safe Deposit Companies" under separate heads, then follow with the rest of the "Industrial and Miscellaneous."

NOTICE.—All bond prices are "and interest" except where marked "f" and income and defaulted bonds.

United States and Municipal Bonds

In reporting below prices for State and municipal securities, we give bid and asked quotations wherever they can be obtained. The custom however, is to quote municipal securities on the basis of the return they yield per annum. Therefore in most cases it will be found that instead of actual prices we have inserted in the column headed "To Net" certain figures to indicate the interest rate at which business in the bonds is being done. Thus 4.35% means that the particular security can be bought or sold at a price that will yield the purchaser or seller 4.35% per annum to the maturity of the issue. Where two figures appear, as for instance "4.25% to 4.35%," the rate of return varies according to the maturity—the shorter maturities yielding the lowest rate, and the longer maturities yielding the highest return.

In State and municipal bonds the custom has always been to quote them "and interest." That is, the accrued interest must in all cases be added on. There are a very few which form exceptions to the rule—that is, where the prices given are flat prices, the accrued interest having been taken into account in making them. These are indicated by a special mark, thus (f).

STATE AND NATIONAL BANK STATEMENTS

Quotations in this department are given per share, not per cent, except for stocks of Canadian Institutions, and are as near as possible for the closing day of the month preceding date of issue, though often are nominal. An asterisk (*) denotes sales.

Figures of deposits, capital and profits for the national banks are from the Comptroller's last call; for all other institutions they are the latest obtainable, direct returns being procured by us where no periodic statements are required. For the Clearing House banks of New York, Philadelphia and Boston, deposits are taken from the latest weekly statement.

REVIEW OF OCTOBER—COMMERCIAL AND FINANCIAL EVENTS.

Many highly important events marked the course of affairs during October, the most of them of a constructive character and full of promise for the future—in strong contrast with the dismal happenings in September, when Great Britain was obliged to suspend gold payments and many other countries also found themselves compelled to depart from the gold standard. Among the most prominent of the events of the month may be mentioned the provision made at the instance of President Hoover for the creation and establishment of the National Credit Corp., whose main purpose it is to vitalize so-called "sound" assets, but which are ineligible for discount at the Federal Reserve banks. This had at least the distinct merit of being freighted with considerable good psychologically, in encouraging belief that through the organization of this new loaning agency relief would be extended to a long line of institutions and establishments that were threatened with disaster because of the great depreciation in the value of their assets or securities and which depreciation was held to be largely or entirely unwarranted. On the other hand, there were many who doubted that the new agency, with a nation-wide network of subsidiary corporations could accomplish much along that line, arguing that if they confined themselves to loaning on really "sound" assets they would be simply doing what local banking institutions could do with far less circumlocution and would be glad to do, since there is really no shortage of banking credit but actually a superabundance of it, as indicated by the low rates of interest in the money market which ruled for so long, whereas if this new credit and loaning agency indulges in making loans on overvalued property or questionable securities it would be simply storing up trouble for the future and thereby prolong the depression in trade instead of bringing it to an end, as desired. However, the banking community entered into the scheme with great energy and determination in order to carry out the President's wishes, and in that way much immediate good was done, whatever the activities of the new organization in the future and no matter how successfully it may function.

The outcome of the British elections on Oct. 27, and the successful conclusion of the conferences between President Hoover and Pierre Laval, the French Premier, were also highly encouraging features. The overwhelming defeat of the Labor party at the British elections—the Conservative party gaining 470 seats in the new House of Commons out of a total of 615 seats against 263 in the last House, and the addition of the National Liberals, the National Laborites and the Independents who rallied to the support of J. Ramsay MacDonald (who himself was returned to the new House from his own constituency of Seaham by a majority of 5,951 after a most vindictive and resentful campaign against him by the Labor party), swelling the total number of the Government supporters in the new House to 553 as against 338 in the last House, while, on the other hand, the Labor party elected only 52 of its candidates as against 270 in the old House, and only seven other Opposition candidates succeeded in pulling through, making the total Opposition only 59 as against 276 held by the Opposition parties combined in the old Government—was an event whose far-reaching consequences can hardly be exaggerated. This triumph of the Nationalists is without a parallel in British history, and is important for a number of reasons, first, because it means the repudiation of the policies for which the Labor party stands, then because it means the rehabilitation of Great Britain in the eyes of the outside world, and lastly because it carries with it the certainty that early efforts will be made to stabilize the pound sterling either on the old basis or a new basis, and so as to restore London to the old financial prestige, and so also as to let the country emerge from its present troubles with new strength and vigor. On this point the fact should not be overlooked that the Labor party in its manifesto during the campaign for election expressly declared itself as opposed to forcing sterling back to the old gold parity and averred that the capitalist system had broken down "even in those countries where its authority was thought to be most secure," besides alleging that the Labor Government had been "sacrificed to the glamor of bankers and financiers." It also declared broadly and unqualifiedly for Socialism, saying, among other things:

"The Labor party seeks from the electorate a majority on the basis of a coherent and definite program. It reaffirms its conviction that Socialism provides the only solution for the evils resulting from unregulated competition and the domination of the vested interests. It presses for extension of the publicly owned industries and services operated solely in the interests of the people. It will work for the substitution of co-ordinated planning for the anarchy of individual enterprise.

"Labor insists that we must plan our civilization or perish. The Labor party recognizes that the present situation calls for bold and rapid action. The decay of the capitalist civilization brooks no delay. Measures of Socialist reconstruction must be pressed forward.

"The Labor party is convinced in the light of experience, particularly since 1925, that the country's banking and credit system can no longer be left in private hands. It must be brought directly under national ownership and control. The Labor party is further convinced of the need to form a national investment board with statutory powers for the control of domestic and foreign investments. It would seek powers from the new Parliament to effect this transformation.

Inflation, Deflation Condemned.

"Aiming at a monetary policy which will stabilize prices, the Labor party condemns either currency inflating or a new and disastrous attempt at deflation, to force sterling back to the old gold parity. It will take a vigorous initiative in calling an international conference to arrive at a concerted monetary policy. It will seek thereby to make the resources of civilization available for the peoples who to-day, in the new world as in the old, are starving in the midst of plenty.

"The Labor party has nevr failed to insist upon the intimate relation between war debts and reparations, and the economic depression. It believes general acceptance of President Hoover's moratorium on war debts permits reconsideration of the whole question. It seeks immediate reopening of negotiations between the signatories of the Young plan and the United States with a view to attaining conditions in which inter-Allied war debts and reparations may be canceled.

"The Labor party has no confidence in any attempt to bolster up bankrupt capitalism by a system of tariffs which in the circumstances produced by our departure from the gold standard have no relevance to economic need and would permanently injure our shipping and export trades and cancel our need for greater efficiency in industrial organization.

Industrial Planning Urged.

"The Labor party urges definite planning of industry and trade so as to produce the highest standard of life for the nation. As a first step it proposes to reorganize the most important basic industries—power, transport, iron and steel—as public services owned and controlled in the national interest with such regulation of prices as will enable British industry to compete effectively in the markets of the world. Wherever necessary imports boards will be created to regulate the purchases of foodstuffs, raw materials and manufactured goods.

"Any special assistance to industry must be conditional upon the acceptance of the necessary measure of public ownership or control. Labor will insist upon the adoption of efficient methods of production so as to secure good conditions of employment for the worker. The consumer must be protected by effective regulation of prices.

"Labor, in power, will remove the unjustified restrictions upon trades union activity introduced by the Tory Government in 1927. The tragic position of the coal industry reveals complete inability of private ownership to organize it as a national asset and the Labor party will proceed at the first opportunity with unification of the industry under public ownership and control.

THE CONFERENCES BETWEEN PRESIDENT HOOVER AND PREMIER LAVAL.

The conferences between President Hoover and M. Laval did not have any such concrete favorable results as the British elections, but at least they were concluded without friction, and both parties expressed themselves as satisfied with the outcome which itself is a great point gained, where, as in this case, international problems of such great importance are involved. Moreover, a common understanding was arrived at on two main points, namely, (1) that any further modification of German reparations payments must be made within the framework of the Young plan, which France has from the first insisted upon as an imperative prerequisite, and that Germany itself must take the initiative in any attempt at modification, and (2) that both the United States and France stand definitely committed to the maintenance of the gold standard, notwithstanding the departure of Great Britain and so many other countries from that standard. Pierre Laval's stay in the United States was very brief. He arrived on the Ile de France in the morning of Thursday, Oct. 22, and after being welcomed at the New York City Hall proceeded at once to Washington, being received with his daughter, Mlle. Jose, at the White House at 6 p. m., and later in the evening being honored at a state dinner at the White House, attended by Cabinet officers, Senators, Representatives, Paul Claudel, Ambassador of France to the United States, the German Ambassador, Marshal Petain of France, &c. His conferences with the President began the next day, Friday, and were concluded Sunday afternoon, when a joint statement by Mr. Hoover and M. Laval, giving their interpretation of the results of the mission, was issued. He returned Sunday night, and spent Monday, Oct. 26, in New York, where he and his daughter engaged in sight-seeing and were the recipients of much attention and attended a number of functions arranged in their honor. He sailed for home in the early morning hours of Tuesday, Oct. 27, again on the Ile de France. The joint statement issued by the American President and the French Premier, in the polishing of which many hours were spent on Sunday afternoon, according to newspaper accounts, and which was broadcast all over the country that afternoon (Oct. 25), was as follows:

Oct. 25 1931.

A Joint Statement by the President of the United States and the President of the Council of Ministers of France.

The traditional friendly relations between the United States and France, the absence of all controversy between our two governments, a record of many events in collaboration toward the peace of the world, embracing among its recent phases the adoption of the Kellogg-Briand pact, render it possible and opportune for the representatives of our governments to explore every aspect of the many problems in which we are mutually interested.

Indeed, the duty of statesmen is not to overlook any means of practical co-operation for the common good. This is particularly true at a time when the world looks for leadership in relief from a depression which reaches into countless homes in every land. Relations of mutual confidence between governments have the most important bearing upon speeding the recovery which we seek. We have engaged upon that mission with entire frankness. We have made real progress.

We canvassed the economic situation in the world, the trends in international relations bearing upon it; problems of the forthcoming conference for limitation and reduction of armaments; the effect of the depression on payments under intergovernmental debts, the stabilization of international exchanges and other financial and economic subjects.

An informal and cordial discussion has served to outline with greater precision the nature of the problems. It has not been the purpose of either of us to engage in commitments binding our governments, but rather, through development of fact, to enable each country to act more effectively in its own field.

It is our joint purpose that the conference for limitation of armaments will not fail to take advantage of the great opportunity which presents itself, and that it will be capable of meeting what is in reality its true mission—that is, the organization of firm foundation of permanent peace.

In so far as intergovernmental obligations are concerned, we recognize that prior to the expiration of the Hoover year of postponement some agreement regarding them may be necessary covering the period of business depression, as to the terms and conditions of which the two governments make all reservations. The initiative in this matter should be taken at an early date by the European powers principally concerned within the framework of the agreements existing prior to July 1 1931.

Our especial emphasis has been upon the more important means through which the efforts of our governments could be exerted toward restoration of economic stability and confidence.

Particularly we are convinced of the importance of monetary stability as an essential factor in the restoration of normal economic life in the world, in which the maintenance of the gold standard in France and the United States will serve as a major influence.

It is our intent to continue to study methods for the maintenance of stability in international exchanges.

While in the short time at our disposal it has not been possible to formulate a definite program, we find that we view the nature of these financial and economic problems in the same light, and that this understanding on our part should serve to pave the way for helpful action by our respective governments.

THE PRODIGIOUS GOLD WITHDRAWALS FROM THE UNITED STATES.

The distinctly unfavorable event of the month was the prodigious gold withdrawals of gold from the Federal Reserve banks, both for export and for earmarking, the withdrawals on French account being especially large, but other countries also engaging in the movement in no small measure. Even here, however, there were indications of a change for the better as the month approached its close. One result of the heavy gold withdrawals was the marking upward of the rediscount rate of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, which had been maintained at the inordinately low figure of 1½% per annum since the previous May. The rate was advanced first to 2½% on Oct. 9, and then to 3½% on Oct. 16, with larger or smaller advances in the rediscount rates of most of the other Federal Reserve banks, and with a rise in interest rates in all branches of the New York money market, but especially in the case of bankers' acceptances, which at one time were almost unsalable, the reason being that foreign banks, and particularly the Bank of France, were busily engaged in converting their balances and their bill holdings into gold with the result that the Federal Reserve banks were obliged to take over enormous masses of acceptances which these foreign banks were converting into cash. There was at the same time almost a complete absence of local demand for acceptances, the cause of which is indicated in our review of the money market further along in this article. The rise in market rates for acceptances, however, with the general tightening of the money market and particularly the advance in the New York Federal Reserve Bank's purchasing rate for acceptances (this buying rate, after successive advances, being 3⅛%) changed all this, the higher rate of return thus obtainable inducing the Bank of France to resume purchases of this class of investments. It is also believed that the visit to this country of Charles Farnier, Vice-Governor of the Bank of France, and Lacour-Gayet, Director of the Economic Division of that institution, who arrived in New York on Oct. 13 on the steamer Europa in advance of the visit of Premier Laval, and who conferred on Oct. 14 with Governor Harrison and other officials of the Federal Reserve Bank, paved the way for some understanding or agreement whereby the process of withdrawing short-term funds held by France in this country was to be greatly modified, either through the resumption of bill purchases by France or in some other way, even though official confirmation of such action was lacking.

The withdrawals of the metal proceeded on a prodigious scale all through October, though slightly moderated in volume at the close of the month, when, as already stated, there were indications that the takings of the metal on foreign account were likely to lessen in the near future. All the facts relating to this extraordinary gold demand and the influences behind it, with the incidents growing out of it, are narrated in considerable detail in our review of the money and foreign exchange market further along in this article, and we will say here only that the withdrawals for export and for earmark at the port of New York during the month of October aggregated no less than $500,600,000, which added to the $305,700,000 withdrawn during September made a grand total for the two months combined of $806,300,000. The net loss to the country for the two months was reduced in amount of $108,270,000 by gold importations of $77,000,000 at New York and $31,270,000 at San Francisco. It may be well, too, to relate here some instances of the fears that, on the one hand, seized possession of certain people to get rid of American dollars before the United States should pass off the gold standard, as these people were made to believe would be the case, and, on the other hand, the craze for acquiring actual gold that developed. Among others Poland furnishes an example of the first kind. A Warsaw cablegram, Oct. 9, to the New York "Times" stated that a flight from the dollar had started that morning on the heels of alarming reports from Paris that the United States Government had decided to abandon the gold standard, and that an increase in the issue of dollar notes was being discussed in Washington. The dispatch added:

Long lines of people waiting outside the banks to get rid of dollars, which were readily bought, reduced the rate. Confidence in the dollar seems to be shaken in Poland, where for the last 13 years United States currency has played the part of metallic gold as coverage for Polish currency. The Poles, who went through the double inflation of the Polish mark in 1923 and the zloty in 1925, have used the dollar as subsidiary currency, especially for long-term contracts and foreign business. The entire populace, even the humblest peasant, hoarded dollar notes and the amount circulating in Poland is estimated at $50,000,000 or $60,000,000.

Headlines in several popular newspapers to the effect that dollars were in imminent danger sufficed to hasten the more nervous holders of dollars in selling their hoards. The banks are more confident of the dollar and buy any quantity. The reserve of foreign currency in the Bank of Poland will be considerably strengthened owing to the flight from the dollar, and the zloty certainly will profit from the public's nervousness.

Fortunately this panic was quickly ended, for Warsaw advices, Oct. 12, were to the following effect:

A week-end "flight from the dollar," which caused $5,000,000 in American banknotes to change hands in a scramble occasioned by rumors, was checked to-day and the dollar not only returned to its usual rate of 8.88 to 8.90 zlotys, but was even sought, with gold coins dropping to the normal value.

A communique issued by the commercial attache of the United States Embassy and explanations by most of the newspapers ended the panic.

The public began selling dollars last Friday, misguided by alarming reports from Paris and New York, and the Bank of Warsaw alone bought more than $1,000,000 at 1 cent below par. In addition, the public dumped its bonds and all foreign money in a scramble for gold. Russian 5-ruble coins, still plentiful in the parts of Poland which were formerly Russian, rose to 7.60 instead of their real worth of 5 zlotys.

Press comments for the last three days point out that the public is likely to lose its head at any alarming news from foreign sources.

An instance of the craze to get hold of gold was furnished in a cablegram from Paris, Oct. 18, to the New York "Times," which said that during the last day of the previous week the curious sight was to be seen in Paris of gold being sold in public. This cablegram, after elucidating the statement with regard to the sale of gold at auction, also furnished a very interesting account of the general gold situation which was causing such widespread and disturbing general distress:

There was no regular auction of the precious metal, nor was the operation very extensive. But on the steps of the Bourse and in cafes nearby a considerable traffic was done in bags of gold coins, many of which were American, which were sold by weight and not at their face value. The traffic was small, because neither gold coins nor ingots are easy to get.

The fact that gold can be sold in such a way and find ready buyers is regarded as very significant of the gold fever which has seized not only those who have the means and opportunity to make a handsome profit out of the difference between the gold value and the current value of any currency, but also those who can deal in only a small way and, finally, the public. It was very evident that these small bags of coins were finally retailed, perhaps coin by coin.

Movement Now Out of Control.

This evidence of the gold fever is, however, only the final expression of a movement which has got beyond the control of those who started it. There are many among those who regard with alarm the danger of the present gold movement eastward across the Atlantic who declare the only way to stop the fever is to prevent profit in the movement of gold for the small band which is operating the attack against the dollar after having gained a victory over the pound.

It is believed that the announcement made here yesterday in a message from New York that the Bank of France was prepared to leave $200,000,000 worth of deposits in New York if gold to that amount was earmarked by the Federal Reserve Bank will be coupled with raising the discount rate to halt the gold exodus of the past weeks.

On the other hand, it is remembered that neither the consultations and credits extended to England nor the final loan stopped the gold leak once it had been found that being a bear on sterling was a profitable operation in which one could not lose. That margin of safe profit and the distorted belief that gold alone is safe money are two factors, it is stated here, which must be eliminated if the dollar is to resist the attack to which sterling succumbed.

It is evident from this side of the Atlantic that this covert attack on the dollar means disaster for all. While at first there was a tendency in the French press to print with satisfaction that so many more barrels of gold had arrived at Cherbourg and Havre, that element of satisfaction has disappeared, and even the ordinary Paris tradesman indulges in talk about the necessity of lynching the bankers and financiers who are indulging in this profitable little game with the lives of hundreds of millions of people.

The Paris tradesman has come to realize that while his own country and his own currency have the appearance from abroad of being fortresses of financial stability, that stability does not do him much good and he will suffer in the general misfortunes.

Two Paris Banks in Trouble.

During the last month two very large Paris banks have had to be carried through what was likely to be a complete collapse. The National Credit Bank was saved by the action of other banks and the Government. The Union Parisienne was saved, so far as the depositors' money was concerned, but the shareholders seem to be likely to lose heavily.

From its Vienna correspondent, Oct. 16, the New York "Times" reported the following:

The history of southeastern Europe during the past week has again been written in exchange movements rather than in political speeches or diplomatic maneuvers, and the compilers have been, not Prime Ministers, but bankers in Basle, financiers in Paris, League of Nations committees in Budapest and Vienna, and national bank presidents in half a dozen countries.

It is estimated that in Austria alone $1,500,000 in actual notes has been hoarded in safe deposit vaults and the traditional housewife's stocking ever since the first currency crisis, in 1920.

Until Austria's new exchange restrictions were clapped on, a few days ago, there were signs of a panicky rush to exchange these dollar notes, long treasured like grandmother's jewels, for gold.

Man Buys $500,000 Gold.

The head of one of the world's leading bullion concerns, who was visiting his Vienna branch, told your correspondent that a Hungarian manufacturer, who had lost one fortune in the last currency crisis and did not intend to lose another, had alone bought $500,000 worth of gold from him.

Other possessors of more or less means had come to the head of the bullion concern explaining that they were tired of transferring their savings from one currency to another and wanted to take a short cut to what they regarded as the only safe medium—gold. As a consequence of this tendency gold now commands a premium of 23%.

The imposition of drastic exchange restrictions in Austria not only put an end to the flourishing clandestine speculative traffic in exchanges being carried on in Vienna, but at the outset seriously hampered those seeking foreign currency for more legitimate reasons.

FEDERAL RESERVE REPRESENTATIVE SENT TO EUROPE TO REASSURE THE FOREIGN PUBLIC.

The Federal Reserve Bank considered the spread of misinformation regarding the situation in this country serious enough to warrant the sending of W. Randolph Burgess, Deputy-Governor, abroad to assure the central banks of Europe that despite all the changes the Reserve Banking System of this country still held a pre-eminent position of strength. On Monday, Oct. 12, the New York "Times" published a special cablegram from Basle, Switzerland, dated Oct. 11, saying that action by the central banks to check European alarm as to the stability of the dollar was expected to follow the conference on that day of Governors of eight banks of issue who had met in the headquarters of the Bank for International Settlements and heard a detailed exposition of the American monetary situation by Mr. Burgess, who had come to Basle especially for that purpose. The cablegram added:

Mr. Burgess, supporting his statements with a formidable array of figures and economic data, made a convincing argument in defense of President Hoover's new National Credit Corp. against charges here depicting it as concealed inflation—charges which have caused people in all parts of Europe to join in a panicky selling of dollar exchange in the past week. It was learned to-night that Mr. Burgess's explanation, which lasted more than an hour and a half, at a five-hour conference of Central bankers to-day, made an extremely good impression on his auditors, who included the Governors of the Central Banks of France, Great Britain, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland, Holland, Sweden and Italy. Also present were a Japanese representative; Gates W. McGarrah, President of the World Bank; Leon Fraser, its Vice-President, and Pierre Quesnay, its Manager.

Several of these expressed themselves as profoundly impressed and greatly comforted by the information disclosed by Mr. Burgess, and it became evident that any future attacks on the dollar will encounter strong opposition from the banks of issue.

At the very close of the month there came an unexpected piece of good news in an announcement on Oct. 30 from the New York Federal Reserve Bank that the Bank of England had arranged to repay $50,000,000 out of the $125,000,000 credit obtained from the Reserve banks the previous Aug. 1, and in like manner would repay $50,000,000 of the $125,000,000 obtained at the same date from the Bank of France. This meant that the Bank of England would pay off $100,000,000 out of the combined credit of $250,000,000 obtained on Aug. 1 from the Bank of France and our Reserve banks, reducing this $250,000,000 to $150,000,000. Banking authorities had had no notion that the Bank of England was in position to engage in any process of that kind. There was no official information to indicate how these large repayments were being arranged, but the event was considered a highly favorable development. Concurrently the Bank of England reported on Oct. 31 that it had sold £14,999,076 in gold bars. At the same time the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, on Oct. 30, reported $3,006,200 of gold released from earmark, and on Oct. 31 reported $26,802,500 more gold released from earmark, thereby adding corresponding amounts to Reserve banks' own gold reserve.

SHARP RECOVERY IN GRAIN PRICES—FACTORS FAVORABLE TO A RISE.

Perhaps the most important development of the month was the recovery in grain prices, for that seemed full of promise for the future if maintained, and still more if the rise should make further progress in succeeding months, as has proved to be the case. At the beginning of October the grain market was still extremely weak, and about Oct. 5 new all-time low records were established nearly all around. But recovery began almost immediately, and the last 10 days of October the rise proceeded at an accelerating pace. On Oct. 5 the December option for wheat at Chicago sold down to 44⅝c. a bushel. On Oct. 31 the same option touched 61½c., and the market had a very strong appearance. This, it will be seen, was an advance of nearly 17c. a bushel, and the rise was projected with great force into the early part of November. March wheat in Chicago sold up from 47¼c. Oct. 5 to 65⅝c. Oct. 31, the rise in this case being over 18c. a bushel. It can easily be imagined how this substantial recovery revived the spirits of the long-suffering farmers. In Winnipeg the price of the October wheat option jumped from 51¾c. Oct. 3 to 68⅝c. Oct. 31, and the December option from 52⅝c. Oct. 3 to 68½c. Oct. 31. The rise in wheat carried the prices of other grains with it, and in a very substantial fashion, too, further reviving the spirit of the farming world. December corn in Chicago, after touching 32¾c. Oct. 5, reached 41½c. Oct. 31, and March corn in Chicago jumped from 34¾c. Oct. 5 to 44¼c. Oct. 31. December oats in Chicago, after dropping from 22¼c. Oct. 2 to 20¼c. Oct. 5, advanced to 25⅝c. Oct. 31. It should be added that wheat prices in Liverpool and at Rotterdam advanced correspondingly.

All sorts of reports and rumors were current to account for the rise in the wheat levels. Newspaper reports indicated that negotiations were under way for the purchase for French account of both wheat and cotton here in the United States. These reports said that from 20,000,000 bushels to 50,000,000 bushels of wheat were involved. Pierre du Pasquier, economic adviser who preceded Premier Laval in his visit to the United States, discussed the matter at several conferences with the Farm Board. Carl Williams, the cotton member of the Federal Farm Board, was quoted on Oct. 30 as saying that no proposal for the purchase of any commodity from the Farm Board had been brought up by M. du Pasquier.

He indicated that probably the rumors arose because du Pasquier came to the United States as a technical adviser on commodities to Premier Laval. In his conversations with the Farm Board, however, the Frenchman, it was stated, was acting solely in his capacity as French representative of the American Cotton Co-operative Association and as an individual business man, Mr. Williams said. As an individual, M. du Pasquier, in common with the Farm Board, was interested in promoting importations into France and other countries of American farm commodities, particularly cotton. This, however, did not change the fact that France was in need of some 50,000,000 to 60,000,000 bushels of wheat from the outside.

What proved most effective of all, however, in stimulating market values was the publication of statements that Soviet Russia would export no further wheat either during 1931 or 1932. This statement was credited to M. Dovgalevsky, Soviet Ambassador to France. It was added that M. Dovgalevsky had been an agriculture engineer under the Czarist regime in Russia. The statement was denied by Soviet officials, but there appeared little doubt that Russian exports had been falling off recently, and furthermore that Russian supplies of wheat had been rapidly dwindling, with some indications that the Soviet authorities had contracted to sell more grain than was available for present delivery or in the immediate future, this last giving rise to reports that Soviet Union was seeking to secure cancellation of its contracts for future delivery. There were likewise reports that many of the European crops had suffered considerable damage recently from excessive rains, and that as a consequence European needs of wheat would be greater than had been supposed earlier in the season. Associated Press advices from Berlin, Nov. 3, stated that wet weather was causing millions of bushels of French and German wheat to sprout in the shocks, and hence was eliminating some of the world's surplus which had depressed the market during the spring and summer. The New York "Times," in a dispatch from Chicago, Oct. 31, dealing with the rise and saying that predictions were current at Chicago that wheat would soon sell above $1 a bushel, stated that fully 50,000,000 bushels of wheat now in French and German storehouses was reported to be unfit for milling, and that both France and Germany were said to have practically exhausted their holdings of wheat from previous years. The same dispatch also said that "Italy, always an importer of durum wheat for its macaroni and spaghetti, was reported buying from Canada and the Farm Board, heavy shipments having passed from Duluth and other Lake ports in recent days as the price of this wheat soared from 52c. early in October to the closing high price yesterday of 97c. Russian wheat, bought by Italy, has proved inferior, and the amount is short of needs, according to reports."

Entirely apart from all this, there appeared to be a growing realization of the fact that the Canadian crop of 1931, like the American spring wheat crop of the Northwest, had suffered enormous reduction the current year by reason of prolonged drouth, which had worked great havoc. The estimate of the Canadian Government, issued on Sept. 9, pointed to a production of no more than 271,400,000 bushels of spring and winter wheat combined in the Dominion in 1931 as against 397,872,000 bushels harvested in 1930, showing a falling off of over 126,000,000 bushels. As it happened, too, reports from Winnipeg towards the close of October spoke of the prolongation of the drouth and said that not in the history of the Canadian West had there been such a dry autumn. These advices also said that the dried-up condition of the soil was already arousing misgiving as to the 1932 crops.

All this combined served powerfully to improve sentiment with regard to the outlook for market prices of wheat, though it was recognized that the United States and Canada were carrying enormous unsold supplies of wheat, and the same set of circumstances acted to revive the speculative spirit. James C. Murray, President of the Chicago Board of Trade, issued a statement Oct. 31 asserting that "during the last few weeks the entire outlook the world over has sharply changed." He added: "The most recent development in which there is evident a complete reversal in the prospects for supplies from Russia naturally has taken the European and Asiatic markets by surprise and forced an unexpected demand on other exporting countries. However, there is as yet no evidence of scarcity, reserves are substantial, and the Farm Board is still holding a large carry-over from previous crops in this country. Many members of the grain trade have for some time back spread the facts pointing to this change in the trend of values, with a result that there has been a considerable increase in buying and restocking by all consuming and distributing interests. Likewise there is a material increase in the public interest in the market which on a free and open market serves to carry the load pending final distribution." In addition, large-scale buying of wheat was traced to a powerful financial group headed by Arthur W. Cutten, one of the boldest grain operators in the whole country.

The Agricultural Bureau's report on the condition of the country's grain crops as of Oct. 1 was made public late Saturday afternoon, Oct. 10, and showed little change from the estimates given out a month earlier as of Sept. 1. The spring wheat crop (including durum wheat) was further reduced by 2,000,000 bushels, leaving it at only 109,000,000 bushels as against 251,000,000 bushels harvested in 1930. This is a reduction of 142,000,000 bushels, but as against this, the winter wheat yield, the estimate of which was left the same as on Sept. 1, namely, 775,000,000 bushels, compares with only 612,000,000 bushels harvested in 1930, giving an increase in this case of 163,000,000 bushels, and making the total of winter and spring wheat combined 884,000,000 bushels as against 863,000,000 bushels in 1930. The estimate of the corn crop was reduced by 12,000,000 bushels and put at 2,703,000,000 bushels as against only 2,094,000,000 bushels, the harvest in 1930, when, however, the crop was very small, owing to the severe drouth experienced at that time. The estimate of the oats crop was increased from 1,161,000,000 bushels Sept. 1 to 1,174,000,000 bushels Oct. 1, but this still left the crop 184,000,000 bushels smaller than that of 1930, when the harvest was 1,358,000,000 bushels.

GREAT JUBILATION OVER THE RISE IN WHEAT AND IN OIL.

It happened that while such a great improvement occurred in the market price of wheat, oil prices also sharply advanced. This led to great rejoicing in the Southwest, and the spirit of jubilation which resulted, with the crowds singing in the streets of Tulsa, Okla., is expressed in the following Associated Press dispatch from Kansas City on Nov. 1:

A spirit of jubilation like that of Armistice Day in 1918 swelled and billowed across the Southwest to-day, with oil at 85c. and wheat 40% more valuable than it was a month ago.

In Tulsa, Okla., oil capital of the Southwest, streets were filled last night and this morning with celebrators. Bands blared, ponderous tank wagons and oil trucks paraded, whistles blew and bells rang and the welkin rang with horns, squawkers and innumerable sound devices. Almost overnight uncounted millions of dollars in increased buying power had come to the oil and wheat interests of the Southwest.

Oil prices, which had been so low that a barrel of crude brought no more than a gallon of retail gasoline had struggled upward during a month of strict proration backed by military rule to a price which Andrew H. Rowley, managing editor of "The Oil and Gas Journal," saw as a permanent advance to be bolstered by further advances. "Conditions justify it," he said.

Wheat prices, which had fallen to such depths that returns to farmers were barely enough to meet production charges, if that much, had climbed 40% and Frank A. Theis, president of the Kansas City Board of Trade, said wheat, with "impressive leadership" was showing the way to other commodities.

"The value of the advance," he added, "cannot be expressed in the millions of dollars of potential wealth it had added to the farmers' purchasing power. The value of its effect in restoring confidence to other commodities, to business and individuals, would increase such a sum many times."

Started by Continental Oil, increase in crude to an 85c. top was made almost at once by Barnsdall, Wilcox, Phillips and Vickers interests

Meanwhile, the three States of the Mid-Continent area took steps further to tighten up the brakes on oil production. Thurman Hill of the Kansas Public Service Commission said "the oil industry is now in a healthier condition than it has been for several years," but, feeling the Saturday advance of 15c. a barrel too small, he urged further curtailment of production.

A new Oklahoma oil proration order, designed to hold the State's production strictly to 546,000 barrels daily, was issued by the Corporation Commission.

THE COFFEE AND SUGAR MARKETS—ARRIVAL OF BRAZILIAN COFFEE TAKEN IN TRADE FOR WHEAT BY FEDERAL FARM BOARD.

The first shipment of Brazilian coffee to reach this country in the international barter of 25,000,000 bushels of American wheat for 1,050,000 bags of coffee was received on Oct. 15 at the Bush Terminal dock in Brooklyn. This initial cargo consisted of 130,000 bags of standard grade Santos coffee. More than 250 stevedores transferred the bags to the dock, and then by carloads to the Bush Terminal warehouses, where the entire shipment will be held for 10 months, according to the prearranged contract terms. The purpose of this clause was to prevent a flooding of the coffee market. Other shipments of coffee were received as part of the same arrangement the latter part of the month. George S. Milnor, President of the Grain Stabilization Corp., said on Oct. 26 that 2,000,000 bushels out of the 25,000,000 bushels of Farm Board wheat traded with Brazil for about 132,000,000 pounds of coffee had been delivered. More than 13,200,000 pounds of coffee had been in turn placed in a Brooklyn elevator by the Brazilian Government. Brazil was taking the wheat faster than expected, Mr. Milnor stated, estimating that the transactions would be completed in 10 months. The New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange announced on Oct. 23 that six steamers were scheduled to arrive in New York during the week ended Oct. 31 with 330,500 bags of coffee from Brazil. Stocks of Brazilian coffee in New York on Oct. 23, according to the Exchange, amounted to 664,026 bags. Thus, allowing for normal deliveries, the stock of Brazilian coffee at the end of the month would reach about 900,000 bags and would be the largest total in 10 years. In the meantime Brazil kept destroying large surplus stocks of the commodity. According to statistics compiled by the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange and made available Oct. 22, a total of 2,217,000 bags of coffee has been destroyed by Brazilian Government agencies in the effort to eliminate part of that country's surplus. The coffee destroyed, it was estimated, had a value of $10,000,000 in Brazil. Coffee prices were a trifle higher. In the New York market No. 7 Rio for spot delivery was quoted at 5¾@6c. Oct. 31 against 5½c. Sept. 30; 5½@5¾c. Aug. 31; 5⅞@6c. July 31; 6⅞@7c. June 30; 6⅝c. May 29; 6½@6¾c. April 30; 5½c. March 31; 5½@5⅝c. Feb. 28; 6¾c. Jan. 31, and 7¼@7½c. Dec. 31 1930. No. 7 Santos was 7¼c. bid Oct. 31 against 6⅞@7c. Sept. 30; 6⅝@6⅞c. Aug. 31; 7½@7⅞c. July 31; 8½@9c. June 30; 8½@8¾c. May 29, and the same figures on April 30; 7¾@8c. March 31; 7¾@8c. Feb. 28; 8¾c@9c. Jan. 31; 8¾@9¼c. Dec. 31 1930, and 11¼c. Oct. 31 1930.

Sugar prices fluctuated considerably, but at the end of the month were not greatly changed. Cuban raw sugar was quoted as high as 1.45c. several times during the month, but also was as low as 1.36c., with the final quotation 1.40c.

Oct. 30, which was the same price as on Sept. 28. The wholesale price of refined sugar at New York at the different refineries, after being marked down from 4.55c. to 4.50c. on Oct. 2, was marked up on Oct. 8 to 4.60c. The Borden Co., in this city, on Oct. 23, announced a reduction of 1c. a quart in retail milk prices, effective Nov. 2. The bulk price was not changed. The President of the Sheffield Farms Co. stated that in view of an expected reduction of ¾ of a cent a quart by the farmers the company would cut prices a full cent, not only on quarts but on pints also.

FARM WAGES ON OCT. 1 LOWEST IN 15 YEARS.

Farm wages on Oct. 1 were the lowest since 1916, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics index. They were 113% of the 1910-14 pre-war average on Oct. 1, as compared with 150 on Oct. 1 a year ago. The Bureau says that the usual upward seasonal average from January to October has been reversed this year, and the index of wages fell from 129 on Jan. 1 1931 to 113 on Oct. 1 1931. The Bureau on Oct. 15 added:

Despite the decline in wages the supply of farm labor is reported to be 113% of normal, and the demand for labor 69% of normal. The decline in wages from a year ago is stated to be general in all classes of farm help, but is slightly more pronounced for day labor with board than for other classes.

ORGANIZATION OF NATIONAL CREDIT CORPORATION—MOBILIZATION OF BANKING RESOURCES THROGH $500,000,000 INSTITUTION—NEW YORK CLEARING HOUSE AGREES TO CONTRIBUTE $150,000,000.

At a conference at the White House, held at night on Oct. 6, of Treasury heads and Senators and Congressmen, President Hoover submitted a program (said to have been approved in advance by New York bankers) to deal with the "wholly abnormal situation, and to bring about an early restoration of confidence." "Unity of action on the part of our bankers, and co-operative action on the part of the Government, is essential," said the President in offering his proposals to cope with the situation developed by the prolonged depression. With a view to mobilizing the banking resources of the country to meet the existing conditions, the President requested the bankers of the nation to form a national institution of at least $500,000,000. According to the President's announcement, "the purpose of this institution is to be the rediscount of banking assets not now eligible for rediscount at the Federal Reserve banks in order to assure our banks, being sound, that they may attain liquidity in case of necessity." "The members of the New York Clearing House Association," said the President, "have unanimously agreed to contribute their share by pledging $150,000,000, which is 2% of their net demand and time deposits." At the same time the President stated that he had on Sept. 8 "requested the Governors of the Federal Reserve banks to endeavor to secure the co-operation of the bankers of their territory to make some advances on the security of the assets of closed banks or to take over some of these assets in order that the receivers of those banks may pay some dividend to their depositors in advance of what would otherwise be the case pending liquidation." In his statement the President indicated that he had requested the Governors of all of the Federal Reserve banks to secure the appointment of working committees of bankers for each Reserve district to co-operate with the New York group. The President also made known his intention to propose to Congress that the eligibility provision of the Federal Reserve Act "be broadened in order to give greater liquidity to the assets of the banks and thus a greater assurance to bankers in the granting of credits by enabling them to obtain legitimate accommodations on sound securities in time of stress." If necessity requires, the President added, "I will recommend the creation of a finance corporation, similar . . . to the War Finance Corporation, with available funds sufficient for any legitimate call in support of credit."

Regarding the conference and the participants the New York "Times" of Oct. 7 had the following to say:

All the leaders in Congress of both major political parties were at the White House. They included Senator James E. Watson of Indiana, the Republican floor leader; Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic floor leader; Representative John Q. Tilson of Connecticut, leader of the House Republicans and Representative John N. Garner of Texas, the Democratic floor leader, who was brought to Washington from his home, the Lone Star State, in an army airplane, placed at his disposal by the President.

The others who gathered around the President when the momentous conference began comprised a score or more of the chief Republican and Democratic Senators and Representatives, nearly all of whom were away from Washington when they received the Presidents identic message of invitation.

The members of Congress at the conference were:

Senators.

Republicans.	Democrats.
William E. Borah of Idaho.	William H. King of Utah.
James E. Watson of Indiana.	Claude A. Swanson of Virginia.
Frederick C. Walcott of Connecticut.	Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas.
Hiram Bingham of Connecticut.	Robert F. Wagner of New York.
David A. Reed of Pennsylvania.	Thomas J. Walsh of Montana.
Otis F. Glenn of Illinois.	Carter Glass of Virginia.
Robert D. Carey of Wyoming.	Pat Harrison of Mississippi.
Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan.
John G. Townsend Jr. of Delaware.

Representatives.

Republicans.	Democrats.
John Q. Tilson of Connecticut.	John N. Garner of Texas.
B. H. Snell of New York.	Charles R. Crisp of Georgia.
Isaac Bacharach of New Jersey.	Joseph W. Byrns of Tennessee.
Richard S. Aldrich of Rhode Island.	Charles H. Brand of Georgia.
L. T. McFadden of Pennsylvania.	John McDuffie of Alabama.
Allen T. Treadway of Massachusetts.	William F. Stevenson of South Carolina
Robert Luce of Massachusetts.	T. Alan Goldsborough of Maryland.
Frank Crowther of New York.
Frederick M. Davenport of New York.

Secretary Mellon, Ogden L. Mills, Under Secretary of the Treasury, Eugene Meyer Jr., Chairman of the Federal Reserve Board and Walter H. Newton, Executive Secretary for the President also attended the conference.

Members of the Banking and Currency Committees dominated the confernce. Those of the Senate Committee present were Messrs. Walcott, Carey, Townsend, Glass and Wagner. Members of the House Committee present were Messrs. McFadden, Luce, Brand, Stevenson and Goldsborough.

Members of the House Ways and Means Committee present were Messrs. Bacharach, Aldrich, Treadway, Crowther, Davenport, Garner and Crisp. Messrs. Watson, Bingham, Reed, Vandenberg, Harrison and King represented the Senate Finance Committee.

Except for newspaper rumors, nothing was divulged as to the conference prior to its conclusion. In indicating the secrecy which was observed as to it, a Washington dispatch, Oct. 6, to the "Times" said:

President Hoover issued his invitation to the Senators and Representatives who conferred with him to-night at the White House by telegram, offering in each case the use of an airplane in the event it should be needed for a speedy trip to Washington. He also enjoined secrecy.

The President's telegram read:

"I am asking leaders in certain committees who may be in reach to meet with me at the White House at 9 o'clock Tuesday evening next upon an urgent national matter. I am anxious that you should come. In order to avoid harmful speculation, I should deeply appreciate it if no information of the call should be given out. I will be glad to place a plane at your disposal if you desire."

Representative Garner of Texas, the Democratic leader, who flew 2,000 miles to Washington, was the only one to use a plane, although another plane was sent to try to find Representative Wood of Indiana, Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, who was on a fishing trip near Norfolk, Virginia.

In the statement issued by President Hoover, at 12:20 a.m. Oct. 7 (following the conference), making known his proposals to bring an early restoration of confidence he emphasized the following points:

I propose the following definite program of action, to which I ask our citizens to give their full co-operation.

$500,000,000 Institution.

1. To mobilize the banking resources of the country to meet these conditions, I request the bankers of the nation to form a national institution of at least $500,000,000. The purpose of this institution is to be the rediscount of banking assets not now eligible for rediscount at the Federal Reserve banks in order to assure our banks, being sound, that they may attain liquidity in case of necessity, and thereby enable them to continue their business without the restriction of their credit or the sacrifice of their assets. I have been advised by them that it will receive their support and that at my request they will assume the leadership in the formation of such an organization.

Contribution By New York Clearing House.

The members of the New York City Clearing House Association have unanimously agreed to contribute their share by pledging $150,000,000, which is 2% of their net demand and time deposits. I have been assured from other large centres, as far as I have been able to reach, of their support also.

I consider that it is in the national interest, including the interest of all individual banks and depositors, that all the banks of the country should support this movement to their full responsibility. It is a movement of national assurance and of unity of action in an American way to assist business, employment and agriculture.

Advances On Security of Closed Banks.

2. On Sept. 6 I requested the Governors of the Federal Reserve Banks to endeavor to secure the co-operation of the bankers of their territory to make some advances on the security of the assets of closed banks or to take over some of these assets, in order that the receivers of those banks may pay some dividends to their depositors in advance of what would otherwise be the case pending liquidation. Such a measure will contribute to free many business activities and to relieve many families from hardship over the forthcoming winter, and in a measure reverse the process of deflation involved in the tying up of deposits. Several of the Districts have already made considerable progress to this end, and I request that it should be taken up vigorously as a community responsibility.

Apointment of Committees in Federal Reserve Districts.

3. In order that the above program of unification and solidarity of action may be carried out and that all parts of the country be enlisted, I request the Governors of the Federal Reserve Banks in each district to secure the appointment of working committees of bankers for each Reserve district to co-operate with the New York group and in carrying out the other activities which I have mentioned.

Broadening of Discount Provision of Federal Reserve Act.

4. I shall propose to the Congress that the eligibility provision of the Federal Reserve Act should be broadened in order to give greater liquidity to the assets of the banks and thus a greater assurance to the bankers in the granting of credits by enabling them to obtain legitimate accommodations on sound security in times of stress. Such measures are already under consideration by the Senate Committee upon Currency and Banking.

Creation of Finance Corporation.

5. Furthermore, if necessity requires, I will recommend the creation of a finance corporation similar in character and purpose to the War Finance Corporation, with available funds sufficient for any legitimate call in support of credit.

Enlargement of Capital of Federal Land Banks.

6. I shall recommend to Congress the subscription of further capital stock by the Government to the Federal Land Banks (as was done at their founding) to strengthen their resources so that, on the one hand, the farmer may be assured of such accommodations as he may require, and on the other their credit may be of such high character that they may obtain their funds at low rates of interest.

7. I have submitted the above mentioned proposals which require legislation to the members of Congress, whose attendance I was able to secure on short notice at this evening's meeting, being largely the members of committees particularly concerned, and they approve of them in principle.

Premier Laval's Visit to United States.

8. Premier Laval of France is visiting the United States. It is my purpose to discuss with him the question of such further arrangements as are imperative during the period of the depression in respect to intergovernmental debts. The policy of the American Government in this matter is well known and was set out by me in a public statement on June 20 in announcing the American proposal for a year's postponement of debt payments. Our problem in this respect is one of such adjustment during the period of depression as will at the same time aid our own and world recovery. This being a subject first of negotiation with foreign governments. was not submited for determination at this evening's conference.

9. The times call for unity of action on the part of our people. We have met with great difficulties not of our own making. It requires determination to overcome these difficulties and above all to restore and maintain confidence.

Our people owe it not only to themselves and in their own interest, but they can, by such an example of stability and purpose, give hope and confidence in our own country and to the rest of the world.

Details of the plan for the organization and operation of the Corporation which is to administer the $500,000,000 fund requested by President Hoover and which was given the name of the National Credit Corp. were announced on Oct. 7. The plan provides for 12 directors, one from each of the Federal Reserve districts. The corporation is to have a nominal capital of 12 shares, of a par value of $100 each, and each director is to subscribe to one share of stock. The corporation is given authority to issue up to one billion dollars of debentures. A statement regarding the corporation was issued as follows on Oct. 7 by Mortimer N. Buckner, Chairman of the New York Trust Co. and President of the New York Clearing House Association, who is Chairman of the Organization Committee.

A plan for organization and operation of the National Credit Corp. was unanimously adopted this afternoon by the organization committee appointed by Governor George L. Harrison of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, composed of Mortimer N. Buckner, Chairman, President of the New York Clearing House Association; Charles S. McCain, Chairman of board of directors of the Chase National Bank; Harry E. Ward, President of the Irving Trust Co.; George W. Davison, President of the Central Hanover Bank & Trust Co.; Herbert P. Howall, President of the Commercial National Bank & Trust Co., and Gordon S. Rentschler, President of the National City Bank, and provides the machinery for administering a fund of $500,000,000 requested by the President of the United States.

The project contemplates the establishment of a corporation through the operation of which banks throughout the country may, when necessary, procure accommodation upon the basis of sound assets, which are not legally eligible for rediscount at the Federal Reserve Banks. This does not mean, however, that banks will have the privilege of applying to the corporation for cash, where there is no immediate need.

The details of the organization of groups or associations of banks in each District will be under the supervision and control of the director of the National Credit Corp. from that District.

It is contemplated that the National Credit Corp. will have its main office in the City of New York, and its home organization will be comparatively small, the personnel being offered by the local banks.

The following is the proposed plan for the organization and operation of the National Credit Corp.:

A corporation is to be organized under the laws of the State of Delaware to be called National Credit Corporation or other suitable name. The Corporation is to have a nominal capital consisting of 12 shares of capital stock of the par value of $100 each.

It is to have the usual corporate officers and a Board of Directors of 12, one from each of the 12 Federal Reserve districts, with the usual powers of directors and provisions for an Executive Committee. Each Director is to subscribe to one share of stock and the shares are to be deposited with the Governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York.

Purposes of the Corporation.

National Credit Corporation (hereinafter called the "Corporation") will be organized primarily for the purpose of aiding and assisting banks throughout the United States to utilize their resources and credit so as to further the stabilization of financial and economic conditions and to enable them better to serve their respective communities.

The main function of the Corporation will be to lend or advance funds to banks or groups or associations of banks, upon such terms and conditions as shall be determined by the Board of Directors or Executive Committee.

The Corporation is to be authorized to issue up to $1,000,000,000 principal amount of debentures. Interest upon the debentures will be payable only if earned, and when and as ascertained and declared by the Board of Directors.

Method of Operation.

Banks throughout the United States will be requested to subscribe to the debentures at par in a principal amount equal to 2% of their respective net demand and time deposits. This should provide at least the fund requested by the President of the United States. Subscriptions will be payable in installments, on call of the Board of Directors, when and as required. Debentures are to be issued from time to time to the principal amount of the installments paid.

It is contemplated that one or more groups or associations of banks will be set up in every Federal Reserve District. Each group or association will be composed of the subscribing banks within the area covered by the group or association. Each director of the Corporation is to undertake the responsibility of organizing the groups or associations within his Federal Reserve District, availing of existing groups or associations wherever feasible. The area covered by and the composition of each group or association are to be approved by the Corporation. Each such group or association is to have its own loan committee, which is to pass upon the loans requested by any of its own members and upon the security therefor.

The articles of agreement of the various groups or associations will provide that the liability of each member in respect of the obligations of the association shall be in the proportion that the amount of the net demand and time deposits of such member as of the last preceding call date bears to the aggregate of the net demand and time deposits so determined of all of the members of the association. This proportion will change as the number of the members of the association changes, but in respect of any obligation of the association, the proportion applicable at the time the obligation is incurred, measured by said deposits so determined, shall govern.

No group or association shall incur any liability which shall cause its total obligations at any one time outstanding (exclusive of interest), to exceed the aggregate amount of the subscriptions of the members of such group or association, except in each instance with the consent of the members of such group or association together having such percentage of said subscriptions as may be specified with the approval of the Director of the Corporation of the Federal Reserve District in which such group or association is located, in the agreement under which such group or association is formed. Any member who has paid the entire amount of its debenture subscription (the right to anticipate full payment being available to all debenture subscribers), shall with respect to any liability or obligation to the Corporation incurred by or through the group or association of which it is a member and not discharged through the application of the security therefor, have the option to liquidate such liability or obligation in whole or in part by surrendering for cancellation debentures at par, without interest except to the extent previously declared by the Board of Directors and unpaid.

When a loan is approved by the local loan committee the note of the borrowing bank and the security therefor, together with the note of the group or association (of which the borrowing bank is a member) in a like amount shall be forwarded to the home office of the Corporation or delivered to its authorized agent. The Corporation is thereupon to advance to the group or association the amount of the loan if approved and the group or association in turn is thereupon to pay over the funds to the borrowing bank. The note of the borrowing bank and the security therefor shall be security for the payment of the note of the group or association, which will contain a provision fixing the liability of the member banks of the group or association with respect to such note in accordance with the articles to agreement of the group or association herein provided.

The debentures of the Corporation will therefore have behind them all of the assets of the Corporation which will consist of:

1. The notes of the various groups or associations limited with respect to liability of their respective members as aforesaid, secured by:

(a) The notes of the borrowing banks,

(b) The security furnished by the borrowing banks.

2. The cash on hand from time to time, subject to the payment of the running expenses of the Corporation.

Character of Debentures.

The debentures will be issued under an indenture and will be payable one year from their date with the right to the Corporation to one or more renewals not exceeding in the aggregate three additional years, but subject to earlier redemption. Debentures will carry interest if earned at a rate up to but not exceeding 6% per annum until maturity, payable only out of the surplus and net income of the Corporation when and as ascertained and declared by the Board of Directors. The debentures will be issued in registered and non-transferable form only and will be authenticated by a trustee. The debentures and the indenture under which they are issued will contain such other terms and provisions as shall be approved by the Board of Directors of the Corporation.

The initial meeting of the directors of the new National Credit Corp. was held in New York on Saturday, Oct. 17, at which time a plan of organization and procedure to provide additional credit facilities for banks throughout the country was adopted. The directors "also adopted articles of agreement for the local associations of banks to be formed in the respective Federal Reserve Districts; forms of subscription blanks to the National Credit Corp. gold notes; forms of application blanks for loans to be used by borrowing banks, and suggested resolutions for the adoption by local associations covering acceptances of loans and request upon the National Credit Corp. for advances approved by local loan committees." George M. Reynolds, of Chicago, was elected Chairman of the Board of Directors of the new Corporation, and Mortimer N. Buckner of the New York Trust Co., was elected President of the Corporation.

As the month progressed the local units through which the National Credit Corp. carries on its operations were formed in rapid succession. On Oct. 16 Secretary of the Treasury Mellon announced that the gold notes of the National Credit Corp. would be accepted by the Treasury as collateral to secure any deposits of public money in depositories designated by the Secretary of the Treasury. The notes will be accepted at the same collateral value now accorded by the Treasury to commercial paper and bankers' acceptances, which, under existing regulations governing deposits in special depositories, are accepted at 90% of face value. It was stated it was the expectation of the Treasury Department that certain of the banks which have acquired, or will acquire, gold notes of the Credit Corp. will be able to release some of their other securities and use them for rediscounting with the Federal Reserve banks, thus making additional money available to those banks. The Treasury had no advices as to probable amount of collateral that would be released by its ruling which was made under the discretionary powers of the Secretary of the Treasury. The Secretary, it was pointed out, is empowered by statute to make such regulations as he deems advisable to protect public funds deposited with private banking institutions as a protection for those funds, the theory being that sufficient safeguards will be thrown around such deposits that the Government will not suffer loss in event of a bank failure. Endorsement of the National Credit Corp. and a brief outline of how National banks may participate in the activities of the Corporation were given in a statement issued by John W. Pole, Comptroller of the Treasury, Oct. 13. Mr. Pole said:

This office endorses the proposal as a highly constructive measure. Participation by National banks in the pool is in every way proper and desirable. National banks may lawfully invest in the obligations of the National Credit Corp. to the extent of 2% of their net deposits, provided that such 2% shall not exceed in amount the limitation placed upon them by statute, which is 10% of their unimpaired capital and surplus.

The plan is meritorious and should receive the support of all National banks.

TRADE CONTINUES DEPRESSED—WAGE REDUCTIONS BECOME INCREASINGLY NUMEROUS.

There was no perceptible change for the better in the condition of trade. It was noticeable, however, that wage reductions were becoming increasingly common, following the action the previous month of the big steel companies and some prominent concerns in other industries. The most of those now following in the footsteps of the United States Steel Corp. had held off from lowering wage scales in the hope that by waiting the action could be avoided, but they now found the scaling down inevitable, and, moreover, considered it a move in the right direction as tending to hasten the revival of trade through lowering production costs. Perhaps the most conspicuous instance was that of the Ford Motor Co. in reducing the basic pay from $7 a day to $6. The company issued a statement on Oct. 29 confirming current reports, but denying that it had changed its policy. It said that its wages remained the highest in the automotive industry. The minimum wage scale now put in effect, it was pointed out, was that paid by the company throughout the so-called "prosperity" period from 1919 to 1929. Then came the depression. President Hoover called upon industry to counteract as far as possible the downward tendency. The Ford Motor Co., as its contribution to the betterment of conditions, added an emergency dollar to its wage rate, thus increasing its minimum from $6 a day to $7 a day, which was done Dec. 1 1929. Proportionate increases were made to every employee in every plant. During the 22 months that this emergency rate was in operation the higher wage cost the company $35,176,101, or an average of $1,600,000 a month. Total payrolls for the 22 months had amounted to $397,442,837. Under the system of automatic raises in pay which had been in operation at the Ford shops, the "depression dollar," as the 1929 increase was called, assumed large proportions. The shops, three weeks ago, returned to the $6 a day minimum for ordinary labor, grading upward in the more skilled jobs. The probationary rule by which a man is hired at $5 a day has been abandoned, it was stated. In all cases of newly hired men at ordinary shop labor the minimum $6 rate applies at the start.

The Aluminum Company of America, with which the family of Secretary Mellon is so prominently identified, announced a reduction of 10% in the salaries and wages of all its employees, effective on Oct. 1. The action, it was stated, was delayed for several months, officials said, until made necessary in the interest of economy. Although aluminum has a diversity of uses in modern industry, consumption of raw material by the industry had decreased generally, it was said. The Procter & Gamble Co. reduced salaries and wages of all its employees and executives between 10% and 15%. The American Rolling Mill Co., of Middletown, Ohio, put into effect a new wage payment plan on Oct. 4 which involves a decrease of approximately 10% in the hourly rate of pay. The Dominion Steel & Coal Corp. of Canada announced wage and salary reductions of from 10% to 20%, the only exceptions being employees whose wage contracts with subsidiaries have not yet expired. The corporation resisted wage cutting, it was asserted, longer than any other steel company. Officials receiving the largest salaries are suffering the heavier reductions. All the different copper companies announced wage reductions. Announcement came from Wilmington, Del., Oct. 8, that the E. I. du Pont de Nemours' salaried employees would go on a five-day week beginning Nov. 5 with a 10% cut in wages. And these illustrations might be continued almost indefinitely.

In the iron and steel industry there were some very slight indications of a change for the better, but the steel mills of the country remained engaged to only 28@29% of capacity and prices again became more or less demoralized. The "Iron Age," Oct. 27, said that moderate gains in orders for bars, sheets, wire products, tin plates, rails and track supplies were offset by declining requirements in structural steel, plates and pipe, with the net result slightly favorable for some mills and districts. The automobile industry was going forward on its new production schedule more slowly than expected, while the railroads, though placing some rail and track supply orders, were so plainly disappointed over the Inter-State Commerce Commission's decision in the freight rate case that the extent of their autumn purchases was in doubt. In the meantime, unsettlement was being caused by numerous price declines. New low levels for pig iron and steel scrap were recorded, the composite price for pig iron having declined to $15, the lowest level since October 1915, while steel scrap at $8.71 a ton was below any quotation of which the "Iron Age" has any record. Finished steel remained at 2.116c. a pound for the 15th week.

The non-ferrous metals also remained depressed, and in some cases moved still lower. For instance, the price of lead at New York was marked down on Oct. 2 from 4.40c. to 4.25c., was further reduced to 4.00c. Oct. 5, and to 3.75c. on Oct. 20. Copper at New York remained unchanged at 6.75c. for electric copper and 7⅜c. for Lake copper. Following the arrival in New York of a group of foreign copper producers, conferences were held with American copper producers. These were wholly informal meetings and according to "Metal and Mineral Markets" were mere sparring matches with most of the interests suggesting plans for bargaining purposes only. The price of tin in New York advanced from 22.00 Oct. 1 to 24.25 Oct. 15, but then dropped back again, closing Oct. 31 at 22.50.

PETROLEUM AND ITS PRODUCTS.

Rigid curtailment of production in the East Texas fields, with a further decrease in the per well allowable brought improvement in the crude oil situation and an increase in posted prices of Mid-Continent and California oils. The latter part of the month, started by Continental Oil, an increase to 85c. top was made almost at once by Barnsdall, Wilcox, Phillips and Vickers interests, and this, along with the sharp advance in the price of wheat, led to general rejoicing and jubilations as narrated above in our discussion of the rise in the price of wheat. In the following we show the leading price changes of the month, both in the case of crude oil and in the refined products:

Crude Oil.

Oct. 15.—Bradford grade crude and Pennsylvania grade crude in New York Transit Lines reduced 10c. per barrel to $2.15 by leading purchasers.

Oct.—31.—Effective Monday, Nov. 2, Continental Oil Co. will post an increase of 15c. per barrel for Oklahoma and Kansas crude oil. The new schedule will range from 69c. to 84c. per barrel. Crude of 29 gravity and below will be posted at 69c., with a 2c. per barrel increase for each higher degree up to 85c. for 40 degrees and above.

Gasoline and Kerosene.

Oct. 1.—Major oil companies reduce service station price of third gasoline ½c. per gallon. New price is 12½c. per gallon, including State tax of 3c. per gallon.

Oct. 2.—Standard Oil Co. of New York increases service station and tank wagon prices 1c. per gallon in Buffalo, Rochester and other western New York points.

Oct. 6.—Atlantic Refining Co. announces 1c. per gallon increase in tank wagon and service station prices throughout Pennsylvania, with exception of Philadelphia and Norristown.

Oct. 14.—Standard of New York advances tank wagon and service station prices 1c. per gallon in Utica.

Oct. 15.—Standard of Ohio reduces service station prices 1c. per gallon in Summit County, Ohio. New prices are 16c. for X70 and 19c. for Sohio.

Oct. 16.—Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey announces 10c. reduction in bunker fuel and Diesel oil, effective immediately. New prices per barrel for bunker fuel oil are: 60c. at New York, Baltimore, Boston and Norfolk; 55c. a barrel at Charleston; 45c. a barrel at Baton Rouge and New Orleans, and 75c. a barrel at Canal Zone. Diesel prices: $1.30 at New York, Baltimore and Boston; $1.15 at Baton Rouge and New Orleans, and $1.25 at Canal Zone.

Oct. 20.—Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey reduced Grade C bunker fuel oil and Diesel oil 10c. per barrel at Texas and West Indies ports, in conformity with similar reductions made elsewhere last week.

Oct. 23.—Sun Oil Co. reduces service station and tank wagon gasoline prices 1c. in Reading, Pa., district, new price being 11c. service station and 1c. less for tank wagon.

Oct. 23.—Atlantic Refining Co. reduces gasoline 1c. per gallon service station and tank wagon in eastern Pennsylvania, excepting Philadelphia and Norristown. New price 11c. service station and 1c. less for tank wagon.

Oct. 23.—Socony-Vacuum Corp. advances service station gasoline 1c. per gallon at Utica. to 14.8c. and at Binghamton to 14c. per gallon.

Oct. 23.—Reduction of ½c. per gallon to new price of 5½c. per gallon for U. S. Motor gasoline announced here by Standard of New Jersey, Standard of New York, Gulf Refining Co., Tide Water Oil Co. and Republic Oil Co.

Oct. 26.—Effective as of Saturday, Oct. 24, Colonial Beacon Oil Co., New England subsidiary of Standard of New Jersey, announced reduction of ½c. per gallon in U. S. Motor, tank car, at deepwater terminals. Similar reduction announced by Texas Co.

Oct. 27.—Gasoline retail prices reduced ½c. to 1c. by leading operators in Atlanta, Ga. New prices are 18c. for straight run; 21c. for Ethyl, and 16½c. for third grade.

Oct. 29.—Crew-Levick Co., effective immediately, reduces U. S. Motor gasoline above 65-octane number, ½c. per gallon, tank car, to 5½c. per gallon, New York and Philadelphia.

Oct. 30.—Effective to-day, Shell Petroleum Corp. reduces gasoline 1c. per gallon to 13c., service station, at Houston, Texas.

COTTON AND COTTON GOODS—RECOVERY IN THE PRICE OF THE RAW STAPLE.

An advance in the price of cotton was also one of the favorable developments of the month. Spot cotton here in New York on Oct. 5 got down to the extraordinarily low figure of 5½c. a pound, but thereafter rapidly advanced, and on Oct. 27 sold up to 7c., reacting to 6.70c. This happened not withstanding that the Agricultural Bureau at Washington, in its condition report as of Oct. 1, issued on Oct. 8, made a further increase in its estimate of the size of the growing crop from 15,685,000 bales Sept. 1 to 16,284,000 bales on Oct. 1, which latter compares with a production of only 13,932,000 bales in 1930. But statistics showed that the consumption of American cotton was increasing, both in the United States and abroad, even though the export shipments of the staple to date were over half a million bales below the exports in the corresponding period the previous season. At the same time, very determined efforts were made to withhold a considerable portion of the current crop from market until next year, and likewise to make drastic cuts in the 1932 acreage. At the same time, Southern bankers evinced a disposition to withhold financial aid next year from cotton planters who may ignore laws adopted by the Cotton Belt States for the reduction of cotton acreage. Bankers of 10 cotton States, called to meet on Oct. 20 to give a verdict on a credit extension plan to hold 7,000,000 bales of cotton off the market until after July 1932, approved the plan. The meetings were held at Macon, Ga.; Shreveport, La.; Little Rock, Ark.; Birmingham, Ala.; Jackson, Tenn.; Greensboro, N. C.; Columbia, S. C.; Jackson, Miss.; Dallas, Tex., and Oklahoma City, Okla. Associated Press advices from Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 20, said that Southern bankers at this meeting had agreed to make or renew loans with cotton as security to mature not earlier than July of 1932, "thereby officially approving a plan whereby approximately 7,000,000 bales of cotton would be kept off the market, at least until July 31 1932." Loan extensions by Southern bankers on 3,500,000 bales of cotton would be followed, it was stated, by continuation of American Cotton Co-operative Association obligations by the Farm Board on approximately 2,000,000 bales, it was decided at a New Orleans conference where the plan originated. In addition, the Federal Farm Board announced it would keep 1,300,000 bales off the market until 1933 if Legislatures of States having 75% of the cotton acreage passed laws reducing the 1932 acreage. The Census report, issued Oct. 14, showed that the quantity of cotton consumed in the United States during September had been 463,704 bales of lint and 63,866 bales of linters, compared with only 393,390 bales of lint and 63.308 bales of linters in September 1930. All this, however, had little effect in reviving activity in the cotton goods trade. There was somewhat greater activity the early part of the month, when seasonable weather brought the consuming public to the stores. The return, however, the latter part of the month of warm weather in a number of important centers served materially to curtail the autumn movement of goods for the time being, not only out of retailers' hands, but also those out of producers' hands. Print cloths at Fall River for 64x60 28-inch goods remained unchanged throughout the month at 2¾c., except on the opening day, when the price was 2⅞c. The statistical report of the Association of Cotton Textile Merchants of New York, made public Oct. 12, showed that production for the five weeks of September had aggregated 272,118,000 yards, or at the rate of 54,424,000 yards per week. The shipments during September were 278,049,000 yards, equivalent to 102.2% of production. Sales during the month amounted to 287,708,000 yards, or 105.7% of production. Stocks on hand at the end of the month amounted to 244,924,000 yards, representing a decrease of 2.4% during the month. For the third consecutive month there was established a new low figure for stocks on hand since these figures became comparable on Jan. 1 1928. Stocks were at their peak at the end of June 1930, since which time they have been reduced over 221,000,000 yards, equivalent to 47.5%. This reduction has been steady and consistent, and the present figure, it is asserted, is abnormally low in view of the large number of mills and the variety of fabrics included in the statistics. Unfilled orders on Sept. 30 1931 were 227,167,000 yards, representing an increase of 4.4% during the month. The woolen goods trade was also adversely affected by the unseasonable weather the latter part of the month. As to floor coverings, W. & J. Sloane, selling agents for Alexander Smith & Sons, announced on Oct. 21 a reduction of 10% on all Axminster and velvet rugs and carpets and a cut of 5% on tapestry floor coverings.

Raw silk prices moved still lower, and on Oct. 31 Japanese double extra 13-15 deniers were quoted at $2.20@$2.25 against $2.25@$2.30 Sept. 30; $2.50@$2.55 on Aug. 31; $2.30 @$2.40 on July 31; $2.35@$2.40 on June 30; $2.22½@$2.27½ May 29; $2.35@$2.40 April 30; $2.55@$2.65 March 31; $2.70 @$2.75 Feb. 28; $2.85@$2.95 Jan. 31; $2.60@$2.70 Dec. 31 1930; $2.35@$2.45 the previous Sept. 30, and $4.70@$4.75 on Jan. 31 1930. In the 20-22 deniers Japanese crack double extra were quoted at $2.10@$2.15 Oct. 31 against $2.25@ $2.35 Sept. 30; $2.45@$2.55 Aug. 31; $2.25@$2.30 July 31; $2.40@$2.50 June 30; $2.07½@$2.12½ May 29; $2.25@$2.30 April 30; $2.50@$2.60 March 31; $2.65@$2.70 Feb. 28; $2.85 @$2.90 Jan. 31; $2.70@$2.75 Dec. 31 1930; 2.25@$2.30 Oct. 31 1930, but comparing with $4.60@$4.65 on Jan. 31 1930.

RUBBER PRICES MOVE STILL LOWER.

Crude rubber on the New York Rubber Exchange fell on Oct. 26 to a new low record when the October deliveries on the old "A" contracts changed hands at 4.30c. a pound, a decline of 30 points. Selling followed a statement published in a Dutch East Indies newspaper, relayed from London, that the Dutch Governor-General had rejected the idea of Governmental measures for restriction. A cablegram to the New York "Times" from The Hague, Oct. 27, reported that the East Indian Planters' Federation had appealed to the Government on that day to help the rubber industry. Without help, it was asserted, 75 enterprises would be obliged to close. In the New York market ribbed smoked sheets for spot delivery, after being quoted on Oct. 20 at 5 3/16c. bid and 5 5/16c. asked, were 4 9/16@4⅝ Oct. 31 against 4½c. bid and 4⅝c. asked Sept. 30; 5c. bid and 5⅛c. asked Aug. 31; 5⅝c. bid and 5¾c. asked July 31; 6 13/16c. bid and 6 15/16c. asked June 30; 6½c. bid May 29; 5⅞c. bid and 6c. asked April 30; 6⅞c. bid and 7c. asked on March 31; 7⅝c. bid and 7¾c. asked on Feb. 28; 7¾@8c. on Jan. 31; 8⅜@8½c. Dec. 31 1930, and 15¾@15⅞c. Feb. 28 1930.

INTER-STATE COMMERCE COMMISSION BARS FLAT RATE INCREASE OF 15%—OFFERS RISE IN RATES ON SPECIFIED COMMODITIES IF ROADS FORM CREDIT POOL FOR NEW REVENUE EXPECTED TO YIELD A PROBLEMATICAL $100,000,000—WOULD DISTRIBUTE FUND AMONG CARRIERS IN PROPORTION TO DEFICIENCIES.

One of the important events of the month was the decision of the Inter-State Commerce Commission on the application of the railroads of the United States for permission to make a 15% increase in freight rates. The Commission handed down its decision on Oct. 20. It denied flatly the proposals submitted by the carriers, but offered a substitute plan for specific increases on certain commodities whereby the annual revenues of the carriers might be increased, it figured, $100,000,000 to $125,000,000. The plan calls for the pooling of all revenues which may result from the specific increases, and the distribution of that fund among the carriers who fail to earn their interest charges, in proportion to their deficiencies. The plan was presented to the railroads for acceptance or rejection as the most feasible method of preserving the carriers' credit, restoring public confidence in railway securities and avoiding impairment of an adequate system of transportation. To avail themselves of the increases proposed by the Commission, the carriers must notify it of their acceptance on or before Dec. 1 next. The suggested increases in freight rates are limited to a period ending March 31 1933, and are made, according to the Commission's report, "for the preservation of an adequate system of transportation in consideration of existing circumstances." Its continuation after that time will depend, the Commission declares, upon conditions then existing.

The action of the Commission followed four months of hearings throughout the country. Thousands of letters in protest against the proposed 15% horizontal increase were received from all parts of the Nation, and practically every commodity moving in inter-State commerce was represented during the course of the hearings and arguments before the Federal Commission, which was assisted in its administration of the proceedings by a delegation of seven State Commissioners from the four major sections of the country.

In disapproving the carriers' united petition for a horizontal advance of 15% the Commission said: "It is our conclusion that a 15% increase in all freight rates and charges would increase revenues, if at all, only temporarily, and that its ultimate effect, not very long postponed, would be to harm rather than help the railroads. It is similarly our conclusion that such an increase would raise the rates upon many kinds of traffic above a just and reasonable level. This latter conclusion applies particularly to agriculture, including live stock."

The Commission reiterated its recommendation that the recapture provisions of the present law be repealed both for the reason that they are unworkable and also because they cause an unnecessary expense to the railroads, which, if eliminated, would go far toward cutting down their expenses. Recommendation also is made that Congress and the Legislatures of the various States take steps to regulate competitive forms of transportation, such as motor vehicles, pipe lines and waterways.

Exempted from any increase whatsoever are the major products of agriculture, including live stock. Citrus fruits as well as certain fresh vegetables would be increased 1 cent per 100 pounds under the Commission's plan. The Commission's substitute plan is conditioned upon the submission and approval of arrangements between the carriers for the pooling of revenue accruing from the suggested increases, primarily to enable them to meet their fixed interest payments as they mature. The main burden of the suggested increase would fall upon bulk commodities, including anthracite and bituminous coal, iron ore, copper, zinc, lumber, sand and gravel, which would receive an advance of $3 per car; and crude petroleum and other iron and steel products, sulphur and phosphate rock, which would be advanced $6 per car. A list of commodities which cannot be advanced under any circumstances, those which would receive flat per car advances and those which would be increased 1 cent per 100 pounds is included in the Commission's report.

All other commodities not listed would be increased 2 cents per 100 pounds, but with the proviso that in no event shall any increase levied on any carload be in excess of 10% of the carload charges which would be assessed in the absence of the increase. All less-than-carload freight would be increased 2 cents per 100 pounds, under the substitute plan. Switching charges would be advanced a flat 10%.

The Association of Railway Executives at its regular fall meeting held at the Hotel Traymore, Atlantic City, Oct. 22, accepted the call of the Inter-State Commerce Commission "to help stabilize railroad credit by a co-operative and united effort." The Association appointed a committee to suggest to the Commission modifications of the proposals made by that body to pool revenues accruing from specified increased rates for assisting carriers unable to meet their fixed charges. The Association's action was generally interpreted as accepting in principle the recent decision of the Commission, but leaving the way open to the rail executives and the regulatory body to get together on a practicable and legal plan for putting the pool arrangement into effect. It was understood that a main objection to the Commission's plan was that the increased revenues to be received would be gifts to roads unable to meet fixed charges. The general understanding is that if the Commission provides that advances from the pool be loans and not gifts the outstanding obstacle will be surmounted.

THE OCTOBER FINANCING OF THE U. S. TREASURY.

Government financing during October was limited entirely to the floating of several new issues of Treasury bills sold on a discount basis, with the principal sum payable at maturity but without interest. These new issues were, in the main, to take up old issues of Treasury bills maturing during the month. With the money market stiffening and interest rates rising these new bills were disposed of at increasing cost to the Government, though the cost was at no time what could be called really high—the increase being relative only and arising from the fact that comparison was with inordinately low rates reached during the summer—and even as it was, there was a change to slightly lower cost again before the close of October. All United States Government bond issues suffered considerable depreciation during the month, and hence could be bought to yield a higher rate of return, and in these circumstances it was only natural that the Treasury should have to pay higher rates for any new borrowings. In our review of the September financing of the United States Treasury we noted that the previous month's sale of 3% Treasury bonds maturing Sept. 15 1955, but redeemable at the option of the United States on and after Sept. 15 1951, had not alone been only narrowly oversubscribed (the offering having been in amount of $800,000,000, "or thereabouts," with the subscriptions reaching no more than $940,559,550, of which $803,294,400 were accepted) but had almost immediately sold below par, the price Sept. 29 touching 97 6/32. During October this issue, in common with other issues of United States Government obligations, suffered further severe depreciation, the price indeed dropping to 89 17/32 on Oct. 19, though there was some recovery from this, with the last sale on Oct. 31 at 92 25/32.

The new issues of Treasury bills put out during the month followed the same course, that is, sold at heavier rates of discount, thereby giving the purchasers a higher yield of return. The rate of discount had already begun to increase prior to October, as noted in our review covering the month of September, and on Sept. 28 the Secretary of the Treasury disposed of $100,761,000 of 91-day bills at an average price of 99.692, equivalent to an average rate on a bank discount basis of about 1.22% per annum. During October the Secretary disposed of three new issues of Treasury bills. On Oct. 7 he gave notice that tenders would be received up to Oct. 13 for an offering of 90-day bills to the amount of $50,000,000, "or thereabouts." The new bills were dated Oct. 15 1931, and run until Jan. 13 1932. Tenders totaling $127,834,000 were received, of which $51,641,000 were accepted. The average price realized by the Government was 99.404, making the average rate on a bank discount basis about 2⅜%. On Oct. 18 another offering of bills was announced; these were 91-day bills and tenders were invited up to Oct. 22 for $50,000,000, "or thereabouts." These were dated Oct. 26 1931 and mature Jan. 25 1932. The applications in this instance reached $227,253,000, and the amount accepted was $51,338,000. The average price to the Government was 99.331, equivalent on a bank discount basis of about 2.69% per annum. Still another issue of 91-day Treasury bills, this time to amount of $60,000,000, "or thereabouts," was announced by the Secretary of the Treasury on Oct. 25. The bills were dated Nov. 2 1931, and are payable Feb. 1 1932. Bids were received up to Oct. 29. Subscriptions aggregated $328,027,000, and the amount accepted was $60,921,000, with the average price to the Government of 99.410, equivalent to 2 1/3% per annum on a bank discount basis. This last, it will be observed, was a slightly better rate to the Government than that at the immediately previous sale.

NEW SECURITY ISSUES AND DIVIDENDS IN OCTOBER.

New financing during the month of October was practically at a standstill, being the smallest since the war. The suspension of the gold standard by Great Britain together with unsettled market conditions in general made the month a very unfavorable one for financing of any kind. Below we give the month's financing which consisted of the following municipal offerings.

MUNICIPAL FINANCING.

$48,500,000 New York, N. Y.—4, 4¼ and 4½% corporate stock notes, revenue bills and assessment bonds, due in about four months, sold to banking institutions in New York City. Part of the notes were re-offered for general investment to yield 4.15%.

3,454,600 Philadelphia, Pa.—4¼% bonds, being part of an entire issue of $15,000,000. The Sinking Fund Commission of the city bought a block of $2,500,000, at par. Bids for the remaining bonds of the total issue are being received at the City Treasurer's office as 4¼s, at a price of par. The figure of $3,454,600 represents the amount of bonds sold up until Oct. 30. No re-offering of any portion of the bonds is expected to be made. The bonds mature Oct. 26 1981, but are optional Oct. 26 1951.

1,350,000 Dallas, Texas.—4½% bonds, due from 1932 to 1951, incl., sold to a group headed by George L. Simpson & Co., of Dallas, at a price of 98.51, a basis of about 4.64%. No re-offering of the bonds has been made as yet.

1,100,000 Denver, Colo.—4% court house and city hall bonds reported sold to the Sinking Fund Commission of the city. Details of the bonds not yet available.

Changes in dividend declarations in October were again numerous and again included many of an unfavorable nature. The following table, divided into two sections, namely, "Favorable Changes" and "Unfavorable Changes," gives the more important of the changes:

FAVORABLE CHANGES.

American Trustee Share Corp.—Initial distribution on diversified trustee shares, series D of 19.811c. a share.

Apex Electrical Mfg. Co.—Special div. of 25c. a share on the common stk.

Archer-Daniels-Midland Co.—Dividend on common stock resumed by declaration of 25c. a share.

(Godfrey L.) Cabot, Inc., Boston.—Initial dividend of $10 a share on the capital stock.

Carpel Corp.—Quar. div. on the common stock increased from 25c. a sh. to 50c. a share.

Granite Bi-Metallic Consolidated Mining Co., Philipsburg, Montana.—Initial dividend of 30c. a share on the capital stock.

Hartford Electric Light Co.—Extra div. of 2¼c. a share on the com. stk.

Homestake Mining Co.—Monthly div. on the capital stock increased from 50c. a sh. to 65c. a share.

THE COURSE OF THE STOCK MARKET DURING OCTOBER 1931.

The New York stock market again passed through very troublous times during October and suffered further severe declines the early part of the month, but recovered the last three weeks, quite substantially in some conspicuous cases, though after the first sharp upward spurt maintaining the advances only in a fitful kind of way, the market frequently altering its course, at one time moving upward and then quickly moving down again, with alternate declines and advances marking its course to the end of the month. On Thursday Oct. 1 the news of the suspension for insolvency of the highly respected stock and bond brokerage firm of Curtis & Sanger was an adverse development. The reduction the day before in the dividend on Baltimore & Ohio stock also continued to cast an unfavorable influence on the course of prices. On Friday, Oct. 2 the announcement that the Eastern Trunk Lines had definitely agreed upon their plan for the division of mileage in trunk line territory among the four principal trunk line systems was the cause of an occasional upward swing in the market at the opening, but the improvement was lost in the afternoon when the market again took a downward plunge. It remained weak and unsettled on Saturday Oct. 3 and again on Monday, (Oct. 5), the railroad list being especially weak and huge further declines being recorded on top of the heavy losses throughout the many weeks preceding. Atchison dropped below par for the first time since 1924 and United States Steel reached its lowest price since 1915. Very many other low records were established with special weakness in such stocks as American Can, Allied Chemical, General Electric, Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing and others of the same class. As a matter of fact, on that day the entire list may be said to have reached the lowest level not only for 1931 but for a long series of years preceding. On Tuesday, Oct. 6, however, the market completely reversed its course on advance knowledge of the move which President Hoover was making to vitalize the assets of embarrassed institutions—assets termed "sound", but ineligible for rediscount at the Federal Reserve Banks. On Wednesday the plans under consideration by the President were disclosed to their full extent and they proved larger and more comprehensive than expected, involving the organization of the National Credit Corporation, and taking the whole country within its embrace.

The market took a very favorable view of the scheme and prices as a consequence spurted up with great rapidity. At the same time the Stock Exchange put a new curb on short selling and accordingly prices continued to mount to higher levels. The prominence given by newspapers to the President's plans served to keep them prominently in view and also served further to stimulate the rise in prices. Hence the market on Wednesday Oct. 7 and Thursday Oct. 8 continued to move briskly forward, though there were sharp reactions at times on both days. On Friday Oct. 9 the course of the market was still upward and the gains in prices taken altogether were of large magnitude. It looked then as if the market had definitely turned the corner and as if the long continued shrinkage in values had definitely terminated and better things were ahead; in this frome of mind in other happenings and events paled into insignificance. In this we have reference particularly to the dividend reductions and suspensions which continued to come along in most depressing fashion, including such as that of the American Smelting & Refining Co. which reduced from 50c. a share quarterly to 37½c. a share; that of the Allis-Chalmers Mfg. Co. from 50c. a share quarterly to 25c. a share and that of the Associated Dry Goods Co. which marked down its quarterly dividend from 63c. a share to 25c. a share. Much comfort, too, was at this time derived from the fact that the Atchison maintained its dividend of 10% per annum.

However, disappointment was again to come. The market on Tuesday Oct. 13 after the intervening Sunday and Monday, both holidays, the latter being Columbus Day, once more received a severe setback, moving sharply downward, and the downward movement continuing on Wednesday and Thursday Oct. 14 and Oct. 15, though on the last mentioned day somewhat of a rally occurred which, though, was not fully maintained at the close. All this was due mainly to the fact that an unusually long budget of bad news was received from across the ocean. The friction between Japan and China regarding affairs in Manchuria grew in intensity and seemed to presage actual war between the two countries. In Germany the Nationalists and the so-called Nazis, under the leadership of Adolph Hitler, agreed to join forces against the Ministry of Dr. Bruening with the re-assembling of the German Reichstag, thereby endangering Dr. Bruening's control. The overthrow of the Bruening Ministry would have destroyed the prospect of further conciliatory co-operation between France and Germany, lately achieved, and possibly have undone all the good work in that direction thus far accomplished. The danger on that score was averted by the action of Dr. Bruening in threatening to resign and in maintaining stern opposition to the Hitlerites. However, for a time the danger was feared and acted as a depressing influence upon the stock market. The German Parliament on Friday Oct. 16 gave Dr. Bruening the vote of confidence desired. Domestic conditions showed no change for the better, trade remaining exceedingly depressed and the steel mills of the country being engaged to only 29% of capacity. The Pullman Company reduced its quarterly dividend from $1 a share to 75c. a share; the Nash Motors Co. reduced its quarterly dividend on common from $1 a share to 50c.; the Western Union Telegraph Co. on Oct. 13 announced a reduction of 10% effective Nov. 1 in the wages of all land line employees, exclusive of messengers, and at the same time let it be known that the directors had announced their intention to reduce the dividend for the last quarter of 1931 on the shares of the company from 2% to 1½%. On Friday Oct. 16 the market in some measure regained tone on rumors that the Interstate Commerce Commission was about to announce its decision on the application of the railroads for an advance in rates, granting a portion of the advance, while at the same time it was reported that the railway unions were preparing to make a voluntary reduction in wages, to be in effect only during the continuance of the prevailing period of depression—all of which proved misleading in the end.

The market now for a time displayed an improving tendency. This was mainly on rumors that the Interstate Commerce Commission's decision regarding advances in rates was presently to be handed down and that the rail carriers would get at least a portion of the advance in rates requested. Traders appeared to be completely mistaken as to the character and purport of the coming decision and kept buying with the greatest confidence. When, therefore, the real nature of the decision became known, and traders and speculators were disillusioned as to its real character, disappointment was keen and the stocks which had been accumulated with such hopeful expectations were thrown over. As a consequence prices on Wednesday Oct. 21 tumbled as badly as they had mounted up the day before. The railroad stocks, as was to be expected, were especially depressed, though the depression extended through the whole remainder of the market. The weakness became further accentuated on Thursday Oct. 22, the railroad stocks again being prominent in the downward movement, though the bond market quite generally resisted the new selling pressure. Returns of railroad earnings now began to make their appearance for the month of September and they were found to be just as unfavorable in most cases as the returns for all preceding months. Dividend reductions and omissions added to the prevailing gloom. The outcome of the British elections and the satisfactory conclusion of the conferences between President Hoover and the French Premier, Pierre Laval, might have proved stimulating agencies, but unfortunately were neutralized by unfavorable developments that apparently came from every quarter.

Dividend reductions and omissions were more than ordinarily numerous in the closing week of the month, the railroad stocks being especially hard hit in that respect. Thus the Illinois Central RR. passed completely off the dividend lists for the first time in over 70 years, and the Pennsylvania RR. further reduced its quarterly dividend from 75c. a share (par $50) to 50c. a share—that is from a basis of 6% per year to 4% a year, and comparing with 8% a year paid up to May 1931. The Central RR. of New Jersey decided to omit the quarterly dividend of $2 a share ordinarily due at this time, though it was explained that the road had already paid dividends for 1931 amounting to $8 a share and hence it was decided to omit the dividend usually paid on Nov. 15. The Bethlehem Steel Corporation declared a dividend of 50c. a share on the common stock, payable Feb. 15 1932 the same as for the previous quarter, but the income statement of the company for the September quarter made a poor showing. After setting aside an amount sufficient for interest charges and making provision for depletion and depreciation allowances a deficit of $1,502,-002 remained, leaving therefore absolutely nothing for either the preferred stock or the common stock. The dividends hence had to be paid out of past surplus. The statement of the United States Steel Corp. for the September quarter was likewise exceedingly poor. The last two days of the month the market, while decidingly irregular, showed an improving tendency, being favorably influenced by news that the New York Central was trying to arrange with its employees for a voluntary reduction of 10% in wages.

The best that can be said of the course of prices during the month is that after reaching a new low depth on Oct. 5, in the case of many stocks the lowest in all time, the market sharply rebounded upward on the 7th and 8th of the month.

In the railroad stocks the rebound was moderate; in the industrial stocks it was substantial, both due to abiding faith that President Hoover's plans for vitalizing assets not eligible for rediscount at the Federal Reserve Banks, would prove a sovereign remedy for the depression. The averages for 50 selected stocks compiled by the New York "Times" furnish a pretty accurate idea of the course of prices during the month. The average of these 50 stocks at the close of September was 88.87. From this there was a decline to 79.07 on Oct. 5, than a rise to 100.11 Oct. 20 with the close Oct. 30 at 94.23. It is well enough to recall that on Feb. 24 last the average for these 50 stocks was 173.07 and on April 10 last year it was 245.6. The sales for the month on the New York Stock Exchange reached 47,896,533 shares, which compares with 51,040,168 shares in the previous month but with 65,497,479 shares in October 1930. On the New York Curb Exchange the sales for the month aggregated only 8,702,369 shares, as against 10,202,250 shares in September, and comparing with 15,449,400 shares in October last year. Among the active specialties United States Steel common opened at 72⅛ Oct. 1, rose to 73¼ Oct. 2, dropped to 62¼ Oct. 5 and closed Oct. 31 at 67½. Am. Tel. & Tel. opening Oct. 1 at 129⅞ dropped to 121⅛ Oct. 5, rose to 142⅞ Oct. 21 and closed Oct. 31 at 137¾; J. I. Case opened Oct. 1 at 38⅝, fell to 33¼ Oct. 5, then advanced to 54⅜ Oct. 24 and closed Oct. 31 at 50⅜; Westinghouse Elec & Mfg. from 43⅞ Oct. 1, sold down to 39½ Oct. 5, rallied to 50⅝ Oct. 20 and closed Oct. 31 at 46¼; General Electric from 27¼ Oct. 1 sold down to 24⅝ Oct. 5, advanced to 32⅜ Oct. 20 and closed Oct. 31 at 30⅝; North American from 35 Oct. 1 dropped to 26 Oct. 5, rose Oct. 21 to 42⅜, and closed Oct. 31 at 38½; Am. Atchison dropped from 112¼ Oct. 1 to 97½ Oct. 5 and then advanced to 119½ Oct. 9, with the close Oct. 31 at 108½; New York Central was under pressure all through the month and sold down from 64⅜ Oct. 1 to 47⅝ Oct. 28, with the close Oct. 31 at 53; Baltimore & Ohio tumbled from 36 Oct. 1 to 28 Oct. 5, rose to 42 Oct. 20 and closed Oct. 31 at 35; Union Pacific from 115¼ Oct. 1 dropped to 98¼ Oct. 5, rose to 122½ Oct. 9, and closed Oct. 31 at 104; Southern Pacific fell from 55⅜ Oct. 1 to 45 Oct. 6 and closed Oct. 31 at 50¼; Norfolk & Western fell from 133 Oct. 1 to 112 Oct. 5 and then got up to 141 Oct. 20, with the close Oct. 31 at 140.

In the bond market the feature was the big decline in U. S. Government securities. Most other bond issues also showed heavy declines but with subsequent recovery of part of early losses. We will not undertake, however, to enumerate any of these, but simply introduce here the following tables giving an extended list of bond issues of all the various classes, by which the reader can easily trace the more important changes.

THE MONEY MARKET DURING OCTOBER 1931.

The effect of the huge withdrawals of gold for export and for earmarking was to bring an advance in rates in all branches of the money market. The gold withdrawals during October were even larger than those of the previous month, aggregating in excess of half a billion dollars, or approximately $500,600,000, of which $390,600,000 represented actual engagements of the metal for shipment abroad, while $110,000,000 net consisted of additions to gold earmarked for foreign account. This raised the withdrawals for September and October combined to $806,300,000, but there were offsets by gold imports at New York for the two months in amount of $77,000,000, leaving $729,300,000, while further imports of $31,500,000 at San Francisco for the two months left the net loss to the country for the two months at $697,800,000. The Federal Reserve Bank of New York advanced its rediscount rate twice during the month. On Oct. 8 the rate was marked up from 1½%, the figure which had ruled since the previous May 8, to 2½%, effective Friday, Oct. 9, and on Oct. 15 the rate was raised another 1% to 3½%, effective Friday, Oct. 16. During the course of the month other Federal Reserve banks also advanced their rediscount rates (all except the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta and the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis), as narrated at length further below. The Federal Reserve banks' buying rate for bankers' acceptances was advanced at the same time, by successive steps from 1¼% to 3½%, the changes being given in the proper place further below. These steps of the Federal Reserve Bank, with the rise in interest rates, carried with it an important train of consequences. For one thing, the New York Clearing House banks raised the rate of interest allowed on deposits. On

Oct. 15 the Clearing House gave notice that a new schedule of maximum rates had been agreed upon to become effective the next day. On ordinary deposits, subject to call, the rate was raised from ½% to 1%. On deposits of mutual savings banks the rate was raised from 1% to 1½%; on certificates of deposit, or time deposits payable on or after 30 days, the rate was also moved upward from 1% to 1½%. The new rates were the same as those which were put into effect the previous Feb. 9, but which were reduced on May 19 following the action of the New York Federal Reserve Bank in cutting its rediscount rate to 1½%. Some of the Clearing House banks also raised the rate of interest allowed on thrift accounts bearing compound interest. This had been reduced from 3% to 2% on Sept. 1, but was now restored to 3%. On deposits of foreign commercial banks the rate of interest was advanced from ½% to 1%, and on deposits of foreign central banks from 1% to 1½%.

It soon appeared that the rate allowed to foreign central banks was not satisfactory to the Bank of France. The Bank was making huge withdrawals of gold, as indicated above, and there was considerable anxiety as to how far this movement must be expected to go. Much depended upon the future course that the Bank of France might pursue in that respect. On Oct. 19 the Bank of France, which, it was estimated, had about $600,000,000 of short-term balances in the New York market, notified the New York banks that the 1½% rate of interest now being paid on foreign central bank deposits was unsatisfactory. This, it should be understood, has reference, not to deposits with the Federal Reserve banks, but to deposits which it seems the Bank of France has been keeping with the Clearing House banks and trust companies. The New York "Times," in its news columns, in speaking of the subject, said that the French demand for a higher rate of interest, carrying with it the implied threat of withdrawal of French dollar balances in the form of gold, aroused a mixed reaction in Wall Street. "Some bankers, who interpreted the move as an attempt to dictate to this market the terms under which France would refrain from recalling her money, flatly declared that they were willing to see the funds go. They said, despite the heavy gold losses recently sustained by this country the United States had nothing to fear from such action on the part of France and much to gain by getting rid of an unwieldy obligation that, under other circumstances, might prove embarrassing." Other important bankers, it was stated, "expressed the belief that the Bank of France would be satisfied with a slightly higher rate, possibly 2%, and were inclined to stress this viewpoint as an indication that amicable arrangements for maintaining French balances here intact could be reached. The position of the Bank of France, as these bankers see it, is that a fair rate will serve to make this market attractive for French funds, but the present low rate, even though it represents a recent increase of ½ of 1%, is unreasonable." In its issue of Oct. 21, the New York "Times" stated that in face of the announcement of the Bank of France that the current rate of interest allowed on deposits of foreign banks was unsatisfactory the banks here had agreed unanimously the day before (Oct. 20) to make no change in the rate of 1½% established upon Oct. 16. The "Times" account added: "Their refusal to be influenced by the possibility that France would withdraw the $600,000,000 of balances held here by taking gold from New York was regarded as proof of their confidence in the ability of this country to meet any foreign demands on its gold stores without embarrassment

Should the French bank choose to recall its money no unfavorable results need be feared, bankers asserted. There was abundant evidence, however, they said, that the Bank of France would pursue no such course. "Instead, it was turning to the bankers' acceptances market as an outlet for its funds." The surmise contained in this last sentence proved correct. The Bank of France did turn to the purchase of bankers' acceptances. Reports also said that the French bank of issue was converting some of its deposits into United States Government securities, which, by reason of their decline, were now affording an attractive yield. That the French bank was buying acceptances appeared plainly enough from the returns of the Federal Reserve Bank, which showed that the bill holdings of the foreign central banks endorsed by the Federal Reserve Bank, after being reduced from $233,102,000 Sept. 16 to $40,571,000 Oct. 14, were now again increasing, having risen to $68,335,000 Oct. 21, and to $82,879,000 Oct. 28. But the buying rate for acceptances, which early in the month had been only 1%, was now 3⅛%, and hence a natural corrective in the shape of the higher yield which the Bank of France was able to obtain from bills purchased in this market was working a cure.

On the New York Stock Exchange the rate for call loans continued to rule at 1½%, the figure prevailing for so long, until Friday, Oct. 9, when, after renewals had been effected at the same figure, the rate for new loans advanced to 2%. Outside of the Stock Exchange there were offerings of money on call on Monday, Oct. 5, at 1¼%, but thereafter, for the rest of that week, no call loans were available at concessions from the Stock Exchange figure. Indeed, while on Oct. 9 the rate for new loans on the Stock Exchange, as already stated, advanced to 2%, outside the Stock Exchange the rate was 2½%. The following Monday, Oct. 12, was Columbus Day and a legal holiday. On Tuesday, Oct. 13, all call loans on the Stock Exchange were at 2%, and the same is true of Wednesday, Oct. 14, and Thursday, Oct. 15. On Friday, Oct. 16, the rate both for renewals and for the new loans on the Stock Exchange was raised to 2½%, and that figure was maintained unaltered on the Stock Exchange for the rest of the month. In the outside market dealings were recorded at 2½% two days before the Stock Exchange quotation was raised to the same figure. Beginning with Oct. 19, however, call loans outside the Stock Exchange were obtainable for the rest of the month at 2%, or at a concession of ½ of 1% from the Stock Exchange rate.

Time money began to harden on Oct. 9, and was substantially advanced on Oct. 19, when the quotation became 3½% bid for 60-day money, with no asking rate, and 3¾% bid and 4% asked for loans running from 90 days to six months. These rates were nominal, however, as time money continued in extremely light demand and each transaction constituted a unit all by itself. At the beginning of the month quotations, also purely nominal, were 2@2½% for 60 and 90 days and 2½@3% for four, five and six months.

Rates for commercial paper, after continuing to rule the first few days of the month at 1¾@2% for choice names of four to six months maturity, with names less well known quoted at 2¼@2½%, moved up to 2½@3% for the former and 3@3½% for the latter on Oct. 5, and were further advanced to 3@3¾% and 4% on Oct. 15, and further marked up to 3¾@4¼%, and to 4½%, respectively, on Oct. 19, and remained at that figure for the rest of the month. In the early part of the month the demand for paper simmered down somewhat, and while only a small supply of paper could be obtained it was generally sufficient to meet the requirements. The demand soon improved, however, and the supply of offerings became inadequate to meet the requirements of the market. With reference to the supply of paper available and conditions generally regarding the commercial paper market, the "Monthly Review" of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, under date of Nov. 1, discoursed as follows: "Throughout the month the investment demand on the part of the banks was generally at a low ebb, though toward the end of the month some increase in the amount of orders received by the dealers from country banks was reported. With the market so largely of a nominal nature because of the small demand for and supply of commercial paper, no prevailing rate for prime names could be quoted, though it is probable that after the middle of the month more paper was sold at 4% than at any other rate.

"At the end of September the reporting dealers had $248,000,000 of commercial paper outstanding. This represents a decrease of 9% from the Aug. 31 figure and of 52% from the amount outstanding in September 1930."

As was the case during September the acceptance market suffered most severely from the disturbing conditions growing out of the action of the Bank of France and several of the other European banks in converting their holdings of acceptances into gold. The Reserve banks were overwhelmed with offerings of bills of that kind, and no outside market was available for the purpose. The demand for prime bankers' acceptances slowed down to such an extent that for the first time in many months the supply of paper was more than sufficient to meet all demands. As a result, acceptance rates in the open market had to be advanced again and again, on top of the advances made in September. It is to be said, however, that in the closing week of the month things eased up again very considerably, and the market then was unable to take care of the wide demand for bills coming from out-of-town banks and corporations, and when, as a consequence, there was an acute shortage of satisfactory offerings. This was presumably because the Bank of France again resumed the purchase of acceptances. As showing what a mass of acceptances the Federal Reserve banks were old and to absorb it is only necessary to say that their holdings of acceptances, after having already increased from $534,628,000 Aug. 19 to $468,527,000 Sept. 30, further increased to $769,096,000 Oct. 21, after which, however, there was a reduction to $724,680,000 Oct. 28. The reduction was coincident with the action of the Bank of France in again entering the market and resuming the purchase of bills. As already noted above, the Federal Reserve weekly returns showed that the holdings of bills for account of foreign central banks, after having fallen from $258,172,000 Sept. 16 to $40,571,000 Oct. 14, increased to $68,335,000 Oct. 21, and thereafter increased to $82,879,000 Oct. 28. Rates for acceptances in the open market were advanced ½ of 1% on all maturities on Oct. 9. On Tuesday, Oct. 13, after the Columbus Day holiday on Monday, Oct. 12, two further advances were made on a single day, and on Friday, Oct. 16, another large general advance in rates ensued. This brought the rates of the American Acceptance Council up to 3½% bid and 3¼% asked for 30-, 60- and 90-day bills; to 3⅝% bid and 3½% asked for 120-day bills, and to 4⅛% bid and 4¼% asked for bills running for 150 and 180 days. To indicate the extent of the rise during the month it is only necessary to say that at the opening of the month quotations were only 1⅝% bid and 1¾% asked for 30-, 60- and 90-day maturities, 1¾% bid and 1⅞% asked for bills running 120 days, and 2% bid and 1⅞% asked for bills running for 150 and 180 days. The New York Federal Reserve Bank early in the month advanced its buying rate for acceptances for bills running from one to 90 days from 1¼% to 1⅜%. On Oct. 13 it raised its rate to 2⅛% for bills running from one to 75 days, and to 2¼% for bills running from 76 to 90 days. On Oct. 16 there was a further advance to a uniform rate of 3⅛% for all maturities from one to 90 days, and this remained the rate until the end of the month. It should be noted that acceptances were in such heavy oversupply the first three weeks of the month, notwithstanding that the volume of acceptances outstanding had during September and preceding months been very heavily reduced, the reduction having followed from the financial collapse of both Germany and Great Britain. The monthly report of the American Acceptance Council, issued under date of Oct. 15, showed that the volume of acceptances outstanding at the end of September had for the first time since Aug. 1928 fallen below $1,000,000,000. Robert H. Bean, Executive Secretary of the Acceptance Council, explained the shrinkage as follows:

The total for all banks and bankers on the reporting date showed a reduction of $94,034,771 for the month of September, thus creating a new low for recent years of $996,365,078.

The reduction in bill volume compared with a year ago amounts to $370,469,078, but the falling off of acceptance business in 1931 is even more pronounced, as in the nine months since Jan. 1 dollar acceptances have declined $539,000,000, or about 36%.

This extraordinary shrinkage in the amount of the banks' commercial credit outstanding is not an unexpected result of the many economic disturbances throughout the world which have broken down our foreign trade, the basis of the most important source of the dollar acceptance business.

A drop of over $200,000,000 in import and export trade within a period of a year will naturally at any time reduce the volume of acceptances but when there is added an almost complete cessation of business based on foreign transactions, as has occurred in recent months, such a curtailment in the volume of outstanding acceptances as is now reported is a reasonable sequence.

The domestic bill market situation has also contributed to the reduction in bills, particularly of many interior banks. In normal periods some market can be found for the bills of such banks, but for several months this distribution has been curtailed because of the inability of dealers to find buyers for other than the acceptances of a limited number of the largest banks and bankers. The result has been a sharp drop in the acceptance business in all interior Federal Reserve Districts, and it is usually upon these interior banks that a large part of the annual crop financing depends during the months of August-November.

As already noted, the Federal Reserve Bank of New York advanced its rediscount rate twice during the month, first from 1½% to 2½% on Oct. 9, and then from 2½% to 3½% on Oct. 16. The other Reserve banks followed one after another in the footsteps of the New York Reserve Bank with the sole exceptions of the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis, whose rate is 3½%, and the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta, whose rate is 3%. The Boston Federal Reserve Bank advanced its rate from 2% to 2½% Oct. 10, and to 3½% Oct. 17. The Cleveland Reserve Bank increased from 2½% to 3% Oct. 10, and to 3½% Oct. 24. The Chicago Federal Reserve Bank raised its rate from 2½% to 3½% Oct. 17, the Philadelphia Reserve Bank from 3% to 3½% Oct. 22; the St. Louis Reserve Bank from 2½% to 3½% Oct. 22; the Kansas City Reserve Bank from 3% to 3½% Oct. 23; the Richmond Reserve Bank from 3% to 4% Oct. 20; the Dallas Reserve Bank from 3% to 4% Oct. 21, and the San Francisco Reserve Bank from 2½% to 3½% on Oct. 21.

THE RETURNS OF THE FEDERAL RESERVE AND MEMBER BANKS—BROKERS' LOANS.

The changes during October in the condition figures of the Federal Reserve Banks were along the same lines as in preceding months, all indicative of further expansion. The amount of Federal Reserve notes outstanding further heavily increased, and the volume of Reserve credit outstanding increased still more. This last increased in all the different ways in which Reserve credit may be engaged or employed. The discount holdings, representing direct borrowing by the member banks, which had risen from $241,718,000 Aug. 26 to $327,925,000 Sept. 30, rose still further to $716,680,000 Oct. 28. The holdings of acceptances, which had increased from $180,518,000 Aug. 26 to $468,527,000 Sept. 30, kept growing still larger until they reached $769,096,000 Oct. 21 (owing largely to the huge mass of bill holdings that the Reserve institution had to take over from foreign central banks, but also in no small measure to the taking over of considerable amounts of bills from domestic holders), but the statement for the next week revealed a reduction to $724,680,000 as the Bank of France once more resumed the purchase of bills. The Federal Reserve returns also showed that the holdings of acceptances held here for account of foreign central banks, after having been reduced to $40,571,000 Oct. 14, increased to $68,335,000 Oct. 21, and then to $82,879,000 Oct. 28. Holdings of United States securities were somewhat reduced, but still amounted to $726,959,000 on Oct. 28, as against $742,345,000 Sept 30, but in comparison with $601,438,000 12 months before on Oct. 29 1930. The result was that total bill and security holding, which are a measure of the volume of Reserve credit outstanding, stood at $2,224,898,000 Oct. 21 and after a reduction the following week, still were $2,198,238,000 Oct. 28, as against $1,557,970,000 on Sept. 30.

As compared with 12 months before, on Oct. 29 1930, very large increases appeared under all the different headings, the discount holdings at $716,680,000 Oct. 28 1931 comparing with $201,603,000 Oct. 29 1930; the holdings of acceptances at $724,680,000 comparing with $165,658,000; the holdings of United States Government securities at $726,959,000 comparing with $601,438,000, and the holdings of other securities at $29,919,000 comparing with $6,322,000, while the grand total of bill and security holdings, which, as already stated, constitutes a measure of the amount of Reserve credit outstanding, at $2,198,238,000 Oct. 28 1931 compare with $975,021,000 Oct. 29 1930 showing an increase for the 12 months in the sum of no less than $1,223,217,000.

The amount of Federal Reserve notes in circulation further increased during October from $2,097,793,000 Sept. 30 to $2,383,948,000 Oct. 28, at which latter figure comparison is with $1,354,881,000 on Oct. 29 1930. In other words the increase in the volume of Federal Reserve notes outstanding has been over a billion dollars or, to be exact, $1,029,067,000. During the twelve months gold holdings of the twelve Reserve Banks as a result of the continued withdrawals of gold for export and for ear marking, were further heavily reduced; in other words these gold holdings which had fallen from $3,485,739,000 Sept. 16, to $3,138,181,000 Sept. 30 fell further to $2,738,451,000 Oct. 28, at which figure comparison is with $3,037,193,000 on Oct. 29 of the previous year. The result altogether is that the ratio of total reserves to deposits and Federal Reserve note liability combined, was further reduced during the month from 71.7% Sept. 30 to 59.9% Oct. 28, the comparison at this latter figure being with 82.4% 12 months before on Oct. 29 1930. It should be added that deposits of foreign banks in the 12 Federal Reserve banks after haven fallen from $207,415,000 Sept. 9 to $95,135,000 Sept. 30 increased again to $231,387,000 Oct. 14, after which, however, they were reduced to $157,618,000 Oct. 28, presumably as a result of the resumption of bill purchases by the Bank of France.

During all this time brokers loans by the reporting member banks in New York City kept steadily declining, week after week, and finally fell away below $1,000,000,000, the amount Oct. 28 being only $869,000,000 as against $1,172,000,000 on Sept. 30. The monthly figures compiled by the New York Stock exchange also showed further contraction in broker borrowing, the total of such borrowing on Oct. 31 standing at $796,268,768 as against $1,044,407,879 Sept 30, and $1,354,067,350 Aug. 31.

COURSE OF STERLING EXCHANGE DURING OCTOBER.

Great Britain having on Sept. 21 passed off the gold standard and the pound sterling having as a consequence suffered a violent decline so that cable transfers on Sept. 25 sold as low as $3.50 and on Sept. 30 ranged between $3.89 and $3.93¾ against $4.86⅛@$4.86 3/16 Sept. 1, the fluctuations during October were necessarily wide and erratic from day to day. Uncertainty as to the future was perhaps the main disturbing factor in the situation—uncertainty as to what the future policy of the country would be, whether an early attempt would be made to return to the gold standard or whether it would be long delayed and whether stabilization of the pound sterling would be undertaken on the old basis of $4.86⅝ or on some much lower level. Great diversity of opinion prevailed as to what course it would be best to pursue and as to what course was likely to be pursued Some important developments during the month added greatly to the uncertainty. One of these developments was the fact that a number of other countries suspended gold payments and that there was doubt as to the probabilities with regard to certain other countries. Another was the enormous further gold withdrawals from the United States and the sharp advances in discount rates by our Federal reserve banks, the New York Reserve Bank having twice advanced its rate of discount, first from 1½% to 2½% on Oct. 9, and then to 3½% on Oct. 16. Much unsettlement and no little anxiety was created by the way in which not only France engaged in withdrawals of the metal from the United States but also most other European countries. Every European country seemed to be desirous of converting its balances into gold. Fear that the United States as the result of these heavy gold withdrawals might have to pass through the same experience as Germany and Great Britain lay at the bottom of this general feeling of distrust and loss of confidence. A widespread disposition in all European countries to indulge in the hoarding of gold operated to the same end. While France took extraordinary amounts of gold, large shipments of the metal from New York to other countries afforded strong testimony to the all-embracing character of the movement, Holland, for instance, having engaged $37,900,000 in the United States for export during September and October, Switzerland $15,000,000, Belgium $11,500,000 and such a minor country even as Portugal having engaged $2,100,000 for export from this side. A further theory has been advanced to account for at least a part of the general movement to take gold away from the United States. It is argued that at the time of Great Britain's departure from the gold standard a considerable portion of the world's bank reserves in the different countries was in the form of foreign currencies, and not in the shape of gold, and most of these foreign balances were on deposit either in London or in New York. The balances in sterling were automatically frozen with the suspension of the gold standard in England, and to prepare against eventualities the various banks immediately began to convert their dollar balances into gold. Combined these operations were on a large scale and the magnitude induced considerable speculative and nervous transactions of the same nature.

The British Parliament was adjourned on Oct. 7, after notice had been given that Oct. 27 had been set as the date for the general election throughout Great Britain. Everything now awaited the outcome of these elections, though from the very start all the indications pointed to the decisive defeat of the British Labor Party whose policies in the administration of the government had brought on the crisis now confronting the British nation. The outcome of the election proved to be something more than the mere defeat of the Labor Party; it was the actual rout of it, the triumph of the National candidates having far surpassed the most sanguine expectations. The Bank of England was not able to re-enforce its gold holdings to any great extent during the month, but that its position had been greatly strengthened appeared at the close of the month, when the Federal Reserve Bank of New York on Friday Oct. 30 issued an announcement saying that the Bank of England had arranged to pay off $50,000,000 of the $125,000,000 credit extended by the Federal Reserve Banks to the Bank of England on Aug. 1, and that only an extension of the remaining $75,000,000 had been requested and had been granted. In like manner only $75,000,000 out of the $125,000,000 credit which the Bank of France had granted at the same time to the Bank of England was extended for another period of three months. The result was that the combined credit of $250,000,000 was reduced to $150,000,000. Hardly anyone had expected that the Bank of England would be able to reduce this credit to any such extent. In its return for the week ended Oct. 7, the Bank of England reported a gain in its gold holdings of £404,975; in the week ending Oct. 14, a gain of £178,857 and in its return for Oct. 21 a gain of £291,706, but followed by a loss of £97,811 in the week ended Oct. 28. Some considerable amounts of gold were received in London from South Africa but were not disposed of. The £15,000,000 addition to the fiduciary note issue of the Bank of England was on Oct. 3 extended for a further perior of four weeks and on Oct. 31 extended for another four weeks.

As already stated, the fluctuations in the rate of the British pound at New York were quite wide from day to day and more or less erratic and the reasoon for this has been indicated in what has been said above. On cable transfers the rate was at its highest on Oct. 1, when the pound sold up to $4.01. The low figure of the month was $3.78¼ recorded on Monday, Oct. 5. From this low figure there was a recovery to $3.96½ on Oct. 21. On Oct. 27, the day of the British elections the range was between $3.87½ and $3.92. The elections having had such a brilliant outcome, one would have supposed that recovery in exchange rates would result. Instead the rate gradually further declined, with the range Oct. 31, $3.83@$3.84¼. A possible explanation for this is perhaps found in the action of the Bank of England, already referred to, in arranging for the paying off of $50,000,000 out of the $125,000,000 credit extended by the Reserve banks to the Bank of England and which credit became due on Saturday Oct. 31. Some transfer of funds for this purpose may have been required for the purpose and the selling of exchange incident to such transfer, if it was required, would account for the sagging of exchange rates the last two days of the month, though it is possible that the funds were already here.

It may be, however, that the whole thing was arranged by means of internal transfers, as both the Bank of England and the New York Federal Reserve Bank, in their daily statements, reported some unusual items of considerable size at the close of the month. Thus the Bank of England on Oct. 31 announced that it had sold £14,999,076 in gold bars and the Federal Reserve Bank of New York on the same day reported the release of $26,802,500 of gold from earmark, and it may be that this latter was for account of the Bank of England, or, if not that, that it was French gold which was released on this side at the instance of the Bank of England, in order to carry through or complete the $50,000,000 credit repayment. It will be noted that the £14,999,076 at $4.86⅝ to the pound would make $72,989,253, and this, when added to the $26,802,500 of gold released from earmark, would make up just about the $100,000,000 which the Bank of England repaid to the Bank of France and the Federal Reserve Bank combined. It might be added that the day before (Oct. 30) the Federal Reserve Bank of New York reported also the release of $3,006,200 in gold earmarked for foreign account.

Canadian exchange on N. Y. ruled at a heavy discount all through the month of October, though the discount was somewhat lower at the end of the month, on Oct. 31, when the discount ranged between 10½ and 10¼%, than in the early part of the month, when, on Oct. 5, it ranged between 12½% and 12¾%. The Canadian Government found it necessary to resort to drastic measures to prevent its stock of the metal from being too heavily drawn upon. Under an Order in Council passed in Ottawa on Oct. 19, gold exports from Canada are prohibited except by license. The order became efffective Oct. 19, and is to remain in force until March 1 1932, unless amended or rescinded in the meantime. No license is to be granted to any person or concern other than a Canadian chartered Bank and heavy penalties are provided in the event of attempts being made to carry out of the country any gold coin, gold bullion or fine gold bars. The purpose of this embargo is to enable Canada to continue to meet its obligations payable in gold, mostly held in the United States and Great Britain. Canada is a large producer of the metal, and the intention is that this new gold shall be used only to meet Dominion obligations and Dominion purchases in the payment of which gold is required.

We have made many allusions in our remarks above to the large exports of the metal from the United States. Authentic figures of the movement are contained in the Monthly Review of the New York Federal Reserve Bank from which we quote the following:

"The monetary gold stock of the United States was further reduced during October by the unprecedented amount of $439,000,000, as a result of exports of gold to several European countries and of some further net earmarkings of gold for foreign central banks. The net increase in the amount of gold held under earmark for foreign account, amounting to $110,000,000, was considerably smaller than in September; this net change in earmarked holdings takes into account the release of gold previously earmarked, a part of which was shipped abroad and is included in the month's export figures. The gold exports of the month, partly counterbalanced by imports, totaled $393,400,000, of which more than 80% went to France. The amounts and destinations of the principal gold exports during October are shown in the accompanying table, together with the amounts that were taken for these countries during the last half of September.

"At the Port of New York, imports during October amounted to $31,000,000, of which $15,500,000 was received from Argentina, $5,000,000 from Sweden, $5,000,000 from Canada, and $2,750,000 from Uruguay. In addition to these imports, $22,500,000 was received from Japan and $5,500,000 from China at San Francisco.

"Since September 16 when the peak of $5,015,000,000 in this country's monetary gold stock was reached there has been a net loss of $716,000,000 of gold, including an increase of $385,000,000 in earmarked gold held for foreign account, and exports of $420,000,000, partially offset by imports of $85,000,000 during this period."

THE CONTINENTAL AND OTHER FOREIGN EXCHANGES.

Exchange on the Continental countries showed no striking features during October except that there was a tendency of rates to recede from the high figures recorded after the departure of Great Britain from the gold standard the previous month. This simply means that there was a gradual return to the normal. In the early part of the month, when the New York Reserve Bank twice advanced its discount rate, the Bank of France (on Oct. 9) raised its discount rate from 2% to 2½%. The Bank of Finland moved its discount rate up twice, first from 6 to 7½% Oct. 2 and then to 9% on Oct. 13 after having the previous day declared suspension of gold payments but lowered the rate again to 8% on Oct. 26. Somewhat earlier, that is on Oct. 5, the Bank of Japan raised its rate from 5.11% to 5.84%. Besides this the Lithuanian Bank on Oct. 3 raised its rate from 7% to 8½%. However, the trend of rates was distinctly downward later and this of course also was evidence of a return by degrees to the normal. On Oct. 7 both the Bank of Norway and the Bank of Sweden reduced their rates from 8% to 7% and on Saturday Oct. 17 both banks gave notice that there would be a further reduction to 6% on Monday Oct. 19. Effective Oct. 29 the discount rate of the Bank of Greece was reduced from 12% to 11%, its rate for loans against collateral from 13% to 12% and its discount rate for agricultural loans from 11% to 10%.

The return to the normal was also indicated by the opening of the Stock Exchanges which were obliged to suspend operations in the upheaval that attended the suspension of gold payments by Great Britain on Sept. 21. The Berlin Stock Exchange remained closed throughout the entire month, though, according to the newspapers, occasional deals were made over the telephone. The Vienna Bourse re-opened for one hour's trading each day on Oct. 27 for the first time since Sept. 21, but cablegrams said it would remain closed on Saturdays. There would be no dealing in Hungarian securities, it was stated, and all selling orders must be accompanied by deposit of securities. Dealings in "devisen" or foreign exchange holdings remained reserved exclusively for the Austrian National Bank. The Oslo (Norway) Stock Exchange re-opened on Oct. 5. It was announced on Oct. 7 that all Stock Exchanges in Spain would remain closed on Saturdays hereafter. Associated Press advices from Rome Oct. 3 stated that Italian Stock Exchanges would also be closed on the remaining Saturdays of the month as a result of a decree of the Ministry of Finance. The Copenhagen Stock Exchange re-opened in the afternoon of Oct. 15. The Stockholm Stock Exchange re-opened on Oct. 9 for the first time since Saturday Sept. 19. The Paris Bourse Committee ordered that forward sales must be covered by a deposit of stock to the extent of 25% of the transaction in addition to the 40% cash which had previously been required.

The French franc was very steady throughout the whole month, with the fluctuations quite narrow and with cable transfers at the end of the month quoted at 3.93@3.93½ against 3.93⅞@3.94⅛ on Oct. 1. The Bank of France added enormously to its gold holdings during the month as the result of the large gold withdrawals from New York, though some of the gold withdrawn is believed to have been on account of other countries. In its statement for the week ending on Oct. 9 the Bank of France revealed a gain of 725,623,850 francs; in the week ending Oct. 16 the gain was 1,615,360,185 francs; in the week ending Oct. 23 it was 1,729,435,334 francs and in the week ending Oct. 30 the further gain was 764,000,000 francs. Cable advices from Paris stated that there was evidence of much hoarding of gold in France, that the Bank of France has had to deliver gold to private banks and to individuals and that applications were evidently made for hoarding purposes. The minimum amount which the Bank will deliver is 215,000 francs. Therefore only the wealthy can resort to purchases of gold from the Bank of France, but in the face of the present monetary chaos even large capitalists are seeking to preserve their wealth. Ruling of dollar exchange in favor of France is attributed on the other side to the same cause, the dollar being sold by banks or individuals in France who desire to bring home funds deposited in American banks or invested in American stocks. It deserves to be noted that other European banks also added largely to their gold holdings, (always accepting the Bank of Germany) as a result of their heavy gold takings in New York. This applies especially to Holland and Switzerland, but it also applies to most of the minor countries. The flight from the dollar was general, and everywhere also there appeared to be a disposition to get actual possession of gold, rather than keep it on deposit in the United States.

The German mark was inclined towards ease the first half of the month, but then became firm and showed a rising tendency. The net result was that cable transfers on Berlin on Oct. 31 sold at 23.67@23.70 as against 23.20@23.70 on Oct. 1. On Oct. 14 the range was 22.75@23.50. There was a growing conviction the latter part of the month that new steps toward the solution of Germany's problem would be taken soon after Premier Laval's return to France. It was generally believed that Premier Laval and Chancellor Bruening would soon work out preliminary machinery to ease the shock which might otherwise follow the termination of the "stand-still" agreement next March. The Bank of Germany in its return for the first quarter of October recorded a loss in gold of 81,521,000 marks; in the second quarter a loss of 63,305,000 marks; in the third quarter a loss off 11,391,000 marks and in the final quarter of the month a loss of 33,000 marks. Banking authorities stress the point that the victory of Chancellor Bruening's government in the Reichstag on Friday Oct. 16 virtually assured the maintenance of the gold parity in Germany and persistence of effort to reduce the fluctuations in exchange to a minimum. The adjournment of the Reichstag on Oct. 16 until February 23 1932, freed Dr. Bruening and his Cabinet of parliamentary interference. Greek exchange moved within narrow limits. The drachma on cable transfers, as against 1.28½@1,29 9/16 Oct. 1, was quoted Oct. 16 at 1.29 9/16@1.30, but the rate Oct. 31 was somewhat lower again at 1.28⅞@1.29. Reports that the Greek National Bank had been authorized to substitute Swiss francs for the American Dollar—chosen a few weeks previously as the basis of Greek currency when the British pound sterling depreciated—on account of alleged financial difficulties of the United States, and the fluctuations of dollar values, were emphatically denied.

In rates on the continental centres of Europe there were no special features during October aside from the fact that there were large accessions to the gold holdings of Holland, Switzerland and Belgium and likewise some of the smaller countries. The Swiss franc on cable transfers, after moving up during the early part of the month, the rest of the month turned steadily downward with the result that cable transfers on Oct. 31 were quoted at 19.49@19.51 against 19.60@19.65½ on Oct. 1. The Dutch guilder moved higher, the earlier part of the month, but the latter part dropped lower again. As against 40.20@40.30c. Oct. 1 the quotation Oct. 10 was 40.65@40.80, but the close Oct. 31 was at 40.30@40.35. All the Scandinavian exchanges moved sharply downward. The Danish crown on cable transfers on Oct. 31 was 21.85@22.00 comparing with 22.25@23.00 on Oct. 1; cable transfers on Sweden were 22.40 Oct. 31 as against 23.75@24.25 on Oct. 1 and the Norwegian crown for cable transfers was 21.55@21.75 Oct. 31 as against 22.25@23.00 on Oct. 1. Spanish pesetas were again relatively steady, but with the trend still slightly lower, cable transfers on Madrid Oct. 31 being quoted at 8.90½@8.93½ against 8.99@9.07 on Oct. 1. As noted further above, both Holland and Switzerland drew large amounts of gold from the United States during the month. Holland having engaged $33,700,000 for shipment, and Switzerland $15,000,000.

Exchange on South American centres continued unsettled and irregular, but with a slight improvement in some instances. The South American units, however, all continued more or less demoralized as a result of political unsettlement and the moratoriums in force virtually everywhere. The New York Stock Exchange reported on Oct. 19 that notice had been received that the Mortgage Bank of Chile had advised holders of guaranteed sinking fund 6½% gold bonds due 1957; guaranteed sinking fund 6¾% gold bonds of 1926, due 1961; guaranteed sinking fund 6% gold bonds of 1928, due 1961, and the guaranteed sinking fund 6% gold bonds off 1929 due 1962 that all would be allowed to go to default with respect to payments in foreign currencies. The notice stated that owing to continued unsettled conditions in Chile and in order to prevent further financial difficulties the Republic of Chile had enacted a law pursuant to which the Mortgage Bank would for the first time in its long history temporarily suspend payment of the services on its obligations in foreign currencies. Under said law this suspension may last for a period of two years. However, the Chilean peso for checks remained unchanged at 12.08@12⅛ throughout the whole month.

Argentine exchange appears to have been steadied through government control. A cablegram from Montevideo Oct. 18 to the New York "Times" said that the first week's operation of the Buenos Aires Exchange Control Committee had been a pronounced success which caused foreign markets to readjust their unfavorable quotations to the Buenos Aires level of 188 gold pesos for $100. Cable transfers on Argentina after declining from 23.75@24½ Oct. 1 to 21.50@23.40 Oct. 13 closed Oct. 31 at 23.00@23.40. The Brazilian Government through its Consul General here in New York gave notice on Oct. 17 that cash payments on its external debt would be made in the case of three issues only, the interest on all other obligations to be "paid on their respective due dates during a period of three years in special scrip bearing interest at 5% per annum, and divided into two series; the first series redeemable in 20 years, will be in respect of the bonds issued against the following loans: Brazil 1903 5% sterling bonds, Brazil 1909 5% French franc bonds; Brazil 1921 8% gold dollar bonds; Brazil 1922 7% gold dollar bonds, Brazil 1926 6½% gold dollar bonds, Brazil 1927 6½% sterling and gold dollar bonds." The three external issues on which interest is to be met in cash are the 5% funding loan of 1898 amounting to £7,065,180, the 5% funding loan of 1914 aggregating £14,278,960, and the 1922 7½% coffee security loan totaling £8,209,200. The Brazil milreis on cable transfers rose from 5.25@5.60 Oct. 1 to 6.00@6.30 Oct. 31. The Uruguayan peso for checks was quoted at 41.50@42¼ Oct. 31 against 37.00@39.25 Oct. 1. On Oct. 19 the rate was as low as 32.50@34.75.

Exchange rates on the Far East remained relatively steady during October, notwithstanding the Sino-Japanese troubles arising out of the Manchurian dispute and the adverse effect exerted by the Chinese boycott of Japanese goods. The rise in the price of silver has, however, exerted a strengthening influence on rates to the silver using countries. The price of silver in London Oct. 31 was 18 3/16 pence per ounce against 15 15/16 on Oct. 1. The Hongkong dollar for checks was 25@25 5/16 Oct. 31 against 24⅝@24.56 Oct. 1 and the Shanghai tael for checks 32½@32⅝ Oct. 31 against 31.19@31½. Japanese exchange was a trifle easier at the close of the month and yen checks on Yokohama Oct. 31 were 48 15/16@49½ against 49⅛@49½ on Oct. 1. Japan continued to send large amounts of gold to the United States, $22,500,000 having been received at San Francisco from Japan during the month of October. On Oct. 6 the Bank of Japan raised its rate of discount from 5.11% to 5.84%.

The tables on pages 16 to 38 furnish a complete record of the transactions on the New York Stock Exchange during October and range since January 1. They need no extended introduction, as they are self-explanatory. The tables embrace every security dealt in on the Exchange. We give bonds first, using the classification adopted in the official list. The black-faced letters in the column headed "Interest Period" indicate in each case the month when the bonds mature.

In accordance with the rule adopted by the New York Stock Exchange in 1909, all quotations for interest-paying bonds are at a price to which accrued interest must be added. The exceptions to the rule are income bonds and bonds on which interest is in default. A few other bonds, like the Holland-American Line 6s, for special reasons, are also quoted "flat," but where this is the case the quotation "flat" will be found against the name of the issue. This method of quoting bonds became effective Jan. 2 1909.

For footnotes to tables see last page of bonds and last page of stocks.

General Quotations

OF BONDS AND STOCKS

In the earlier part of this publication complete records of the dealings on the leading stock exchanges of the country, for the latest month and for the calendar year to date, are furnished. In this department of General Quotations we combine in one comprehensive whole, securities of all classes and descriptions, not only those dealt in on the exchanges, but also leading unlisted and inactive securities. The following is an index to the different classes of securities quoted:

Quotations from all Stock Exchanges are as near as possible for the closing day of the month preceding the date of issue. As the New York Stock Exchange began with Jan. 2 1909 to quote all bond prices "and interest," we have adopted the same method and no longer employ a designating mark to indicate the fact except where there is a deviation from this rule. The reader will understand, therefore, that unless the letter "f" is prefixed to the price, he must pay accrued interest in addition to the price. This, however, does not apply to income bonds or bonds in default, in which cases the price includes the interest, should there be any.

The letter "f" prefixed to bond prices denotes that the quotation is a flat price—that is, that the accrued interest forms part of the price, and therefore the purchaser does not have to provide for it separately in making payment. As already stated in the case of income bonds and bonds in default, the price is always "flat," and no designating mark is employed to indicate the fact.

Quotations for equipment bonds are based on average maturities.

Quotations for guaranteed stocks are "and dividend"; that is, the accrued dividend must be paid in addition to the price. Stock prices marked thus (d) are per share. All others are per cent except bank stock prices, which are quoted per share unless otherwise stated.

It should be borne in mind in the use of these tables that the quotations for many inactive and unlisted securities are merely nominal, but in all cases the figures are obtained from sources which are considered reliable.

The following abbreviations are often used, viz.; "M" for mortgage, "g" for gold, "gu" for guaranteed, "end" for endorsed, "cons" for consolidated conv" for convertible, "s f" for sinking fund, "l g" for land grant, "op" for optional.

The black-faced type in the letters showing the interest period indicates the month when the bonds mature.

NOTICE.—All bond prices are "and interest" except where marked "f" and income and defaulted bonds.

Industrial and Miscellaneous Securities

Under the heading "Industrial and Miscellaneous Securities" we include all issues which do not appear under the previous two headings, namely "Railroads (Steam)" and "Public Utilities." In the case of stocks, however, we put "Textile Manufacturing," "Insurance," "Mining," "Real Estate and Land," "Title Guarantee and Safe Deposit Companies" under separate heads, then follow with the rest of the "Industrial and Miscellaneous."

NOTICE.—All bond prices are "and interest" except where marked "f" and income and defaulted bonds.

Statement of the Ownership, Management, &c., required by the Act of Congress of Aug. 24 1912, of Bank & Quotation Record, published monthly at New York, N. Y., for October 1 1931.

State of New York, County of New York, ss.: Before me, a notary public, in and for the State and County aforesaid, personally appeared Jacob Seibert, who having been duly sworn according to law, deposed and says that he is the editor of the Bank & Quotation Record and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management, &c., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of Aug. 24 1912, embodied in Section 411, Postal Laws and Regulations, printed on the reverse of this form, to wit:

(1) That the names and addresses of the publisher, editor, managing editor and business managers are:

Publisher William B. Dana Company, 25 Spruce St., New York.

Editor, Jacob Seibert, 25 Spruce St., New York

Managing Editor, Jacob Seibert, 25 Spruce St., New York.

Business Manager, William D. Riggs, 25 Spruce St., New York.

(2) That the owner is (If owned by a corporation, its name and address must be stated, and also immediately thereunder the names and addresses of stockholders owning or holding 1% or more of the total amount of stock. If not owned by a corporation, the names and addresses of the individual owners must be given. If owned by a firm, company, or other unincorporated concern, its name and address, as well as those of each individual member, must be given):

Owner, William B. Dana Company, 25 Spruce St., New York.

Stockholders: Jacob Seibert, 25 Spruce St., New York.

(3) That the known bondholders, mortgagees and other security holders owning or holding 1% or more of the total amount of bonds, mortgages or other securities are: (If there are none, so state.) None.

(4) That the two paragraphs next above giving the names of the owners, stockholders and security holders, if any, contain not only the list of stockholders and security holders as they appear upon the books of the company, but also, in cases where the stockholder or security holder appears upon the books of the company as trustee or in any other fiduciary relation, the name of the person or corporation for whom such trustee is acting, is given; also that the said two paragraphs contain statements embracing affiant's full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees, hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner; and this affiant has no reason to believe that any other person, association or corporation has any interest, direct or indirect, in the said stock, bonds or other securities than as so stated by him.

(Signed) Jacob Seibert, Editor. Sworn to and subscribed before me this 30th day of Sept. 1931. Thomas A. Creegan, Notary Public, Kings County, New York County Clerk's No. 55. New York County Register No. 3C24. (My commission expires March 30 1933.)

United States and Municipal Bonds

In reporting below prices for State and municipal securities, we give bid and asked quotations wherever they can be obtained The custom however, is to quote municipal securities on the basis of the return they yield per annum. Therefore in most cases it will be found that instead of actual prices we have inserted in the column headed "To Net" certain figures to indicate the interest rate at which business in the bonds is being done. Thus 4.35% means that the particular security can be bought or sold at a price that will yield the purchaser or seller 4.35% per annum to the maturity of the issue. Where two figures appear, as for instance "4.25% to 4.35%," the rate of return varies according to the maturity—the shorter maturities yielding the lowest rate, and the longer maturities yielding the highest return.

In State and municipal bonds the custom has always been to quote them "and interest." That is, the accrued interest must in all cases be added on. There are a very few which form exceptions to the rule—that is, where the prices given are flat prices, the accrued interest having been taken into account in making them. These are indicated by a special mark, thus (f).
